January 1, 1967, marked the beginning of the Centennial in Nebraska. No city is celebrating with more reason than Bellevue, the oldest settlement in the state. Bellevue is not, however, "old." It is, on the contrary, the "fastest growing town in Nebraska." The town has come a long way from the small settlement of log cabins on the Missouri, and it has been the role of education to keep up with and encourage the growth of its citizens, young and old.

Bellevue High School has consistently endeavored to keep up the high quality of education that was made evident throughout the last century. Great emphasis has been placed on preparing students for entrance into the "school of hard knocks."

In the following pages of the 1967 Chieftain, we have therefore tried to present an overall picture of the lives of the students and faculty at BHS: the seriousness of the classrooms, the excitement of athletic events, the dances, the plays, and everything else that goes into making BHS what it is today.

Seniors Dedicate '67 Chieftain to Mary A. Ralph

What is the role of the counselor in education? "The role of the counselor is to assist the students in making decisions; the counselor does not make the decision for the student, but aids the student in making it himself." These are the words of Mrs. Mary A. Ralph, a Bellevue counselor.

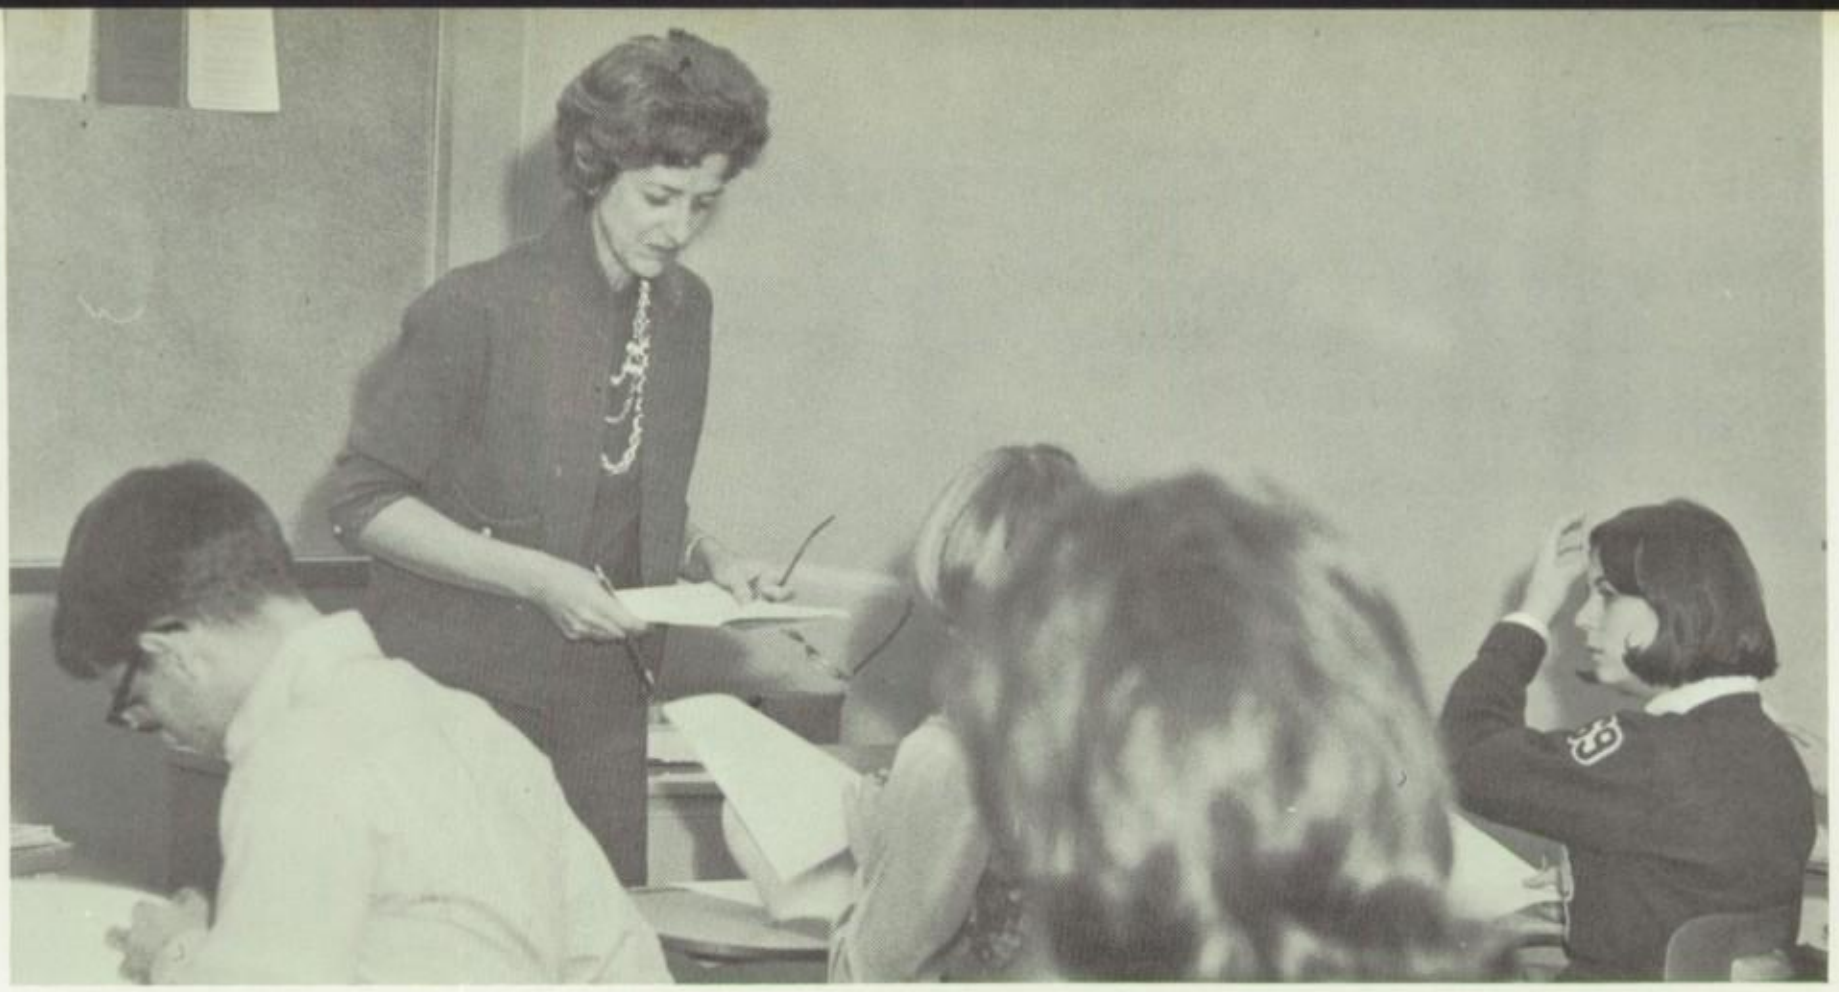
To become a counselor takes a considerable amount of patience and dedication. First of all, one must have a bachelor's degree in an accepted field. Then comes 30 hours of graduate work in a specified area, such as psychology or sociology. The counselor-to-be must then complete two years of successful teaching. He is then qualified to be a counselor. This does not mean, though, that he is really a counselor. He is qualified. There is a world of difference between the two points.

To be a counselor, a person must possess, and be able to instill in others, confidence in himself. He must be fully aware of students' problems and feelings. He must be able to look at those problems from two angles: that of the student and of the faculty or administration.

The Class of '67 feels that Mrs. Ralph has succeeded in fulfilling her roll as a counselor. Not only is she aware of student problems, but she possesses perhaps the most important quality any counselor can have — she cares.

One important qualification for a counselor is the ability to utilize all available materials.

The setting is serious as Mrs. Ralph talks to Senior Patti Sutton during her free hour.



Sophomore Guidance is one more duty added to Mrs. Ralph's already long list of duties.

I wonder if that machine is thinking the same thing I am?"

Come into my parlor said the spider to the fly.

Welcome to NEBRASKAland

where the West begins

"As a Nebraska teacher I believe . . . the quality of education is determined by the ideals, motives, preparation and conduct of the teaching profession." With the words of this creed in mind, the faculty of Bellevue High School has kept alive a tradition that was begun in the first school in the State of Nebraska, a hundred years ago. This tradition has continued at BHS throughout the years, with the result that BHS students have left this school with a pride in themselves and their school. We hope that this tradition will be continued as well in the next hundred years as it has been in the past hundred. In gratitude to these teachers, as well as all the other people that make BHS the fine school it is, we dedicate the Curriculum Division of the 1967 Chieftain to you, THE FACULTY.

Dr. George W. Bailey has his hands full with the time consuming job of Superintendent of Schools.

Bellevue's School Board Directed By Dr. Bailey

Organizing, managing, making decisions concerning school policies, and appropriation of funds are among the functions of the School Board and the Superintendent of Schools. The Board also oversees the employing and paying of teachers and the providing of adequate building space. It may also develop courses of study within the framework of the state law. The State laws outline general academic standards, how teachers are certified, and the use of public funds for school.

In order to make new policies, study bids submitted by contractors for building projects, and discuss business, it is necessary for the School Board to meet on the first Monday of each month.

To be on the Board a person must be a resident of the Bellevue School District and be elected by the community for a term of three years.

In order to obtain efficient operation of the schools, the School Board employs specialists in education to operate the schools. The Superintendent of Schools, Dr. George W. Bailey, supervises the entire local school system and educational program. The School Board is also responsible for approving the employment of principals for the individual schools, in addition to librarians, nurses, custodians, secretaries, and all other school personnel.

The school district also employs several assistants in charge of special phases of work, such as: Curriculum Intern, James Uphoff; Supervisor of Buildings and Grounds, Floyd R. Peterson.

B.H.S. Counselors Help Students Decide Vocation

Donald L. Hansen

Guidance is the process of helping people make the best possible decisions about their lives, and aiding them in solving their problems. It includes helping students choose the proper courses to take in school, and in deciding what careers to follow after their education is completed. Such decisions require that a person have full and correct knowledge about himself, the kind of person he is, and the kinds of talents he has. He should also understand what social and economic conditions may affect his decisions. Guidance counselors try to help a person find this information so that he may choose the right path for himself.

Educational guidance uses two main methods to help students make decisions and solve problems. These are counseling and testing. The emphasis on sophomore tests were the SCAT, STEP, and OTIS tests. On the Senior level there are the ACT, CEEB, PSAT, and Nebraska Regents Exam. PSAT, CEEB and the National Merit Exam were also given to juniors.

Staff's Teamwork Keeps Bellevue Running Smoothly

Preparing sandwiches for the BHS student appetite is one of the duties undertaken daily in the kitchen.

The efficiency of the Bellevue High School Staff is nothing short of remarkable, considering the number of problems that must be dealt with each day.

In the cafeteria, the "lunch ladies" prepare everything from Sloppy Joe's to peanut-butter and jelly sandwiches for the hungry hoards that pour into the lunchroom every day.

The school custodians also have their work cut out for them, with students using the floors as wastebaskets and tracking in all that Nebraska mud on the floors.

In the school office, the secretaries keep busy by taking care of absentees, typing forms, reading and answering school correspondence, and keeping track of the money that changes hands in clubs and school organizations.

Mrs. Jan Barbe, Mrs. Helen Heaton, and Mrs. Barbara Achilles help keep the school office running smoothly.

Mr. Voyles, school custodian, is kept on the job with the many problems that arise at Bellevue High.

English Language Most Difficult of All to Learn

The English language is used by 400 million people in almost every part of the world. About 250 million people speak English as their native tongue.

English today remains basically Germanic in structure. The commonest and most essential English words are native English. They include house, home, mother, father, eat and drink. English still borrows from French and other languages, especially Italian and Spanish. Piano and pizza come from Italian, and fiesta and siesta come from Spanish. Like French words, most Italian and Spanish words are Latin in origin. English borrowed vodka from Russian, sauerkraut from German, tomahawk and wigwam from American Indian languages, boomerang and kangaroo from Australian aborigines, and igloo from Eskimo.

Because of these and other borrowings, English has a larger and more varied vocabulary than any other language. There are about 600,000 English words, many of which are used or understood only by technicians and scientists within their own specialty.

Journalism Found Difficult But Rewarding Subject

Journalism is not a leisurely profession. The tasks of most journalists are tense, sometimes exciting, but more often made up of long hours of hard physical and mental labor.

Journalism is the profession of recording such events as may be of interest to the public.

Newspaper workers have the satisfaction of seeing their work in print either the same day it is written or the day following. The work of Bellevue High's newspapermen throws them in contact with humanity in all its forms. They gather and prepare the news, either as reporters or special writers. They work long and unusual hours, under conditions that are sometimes very trying.

Then there's the Annual staff whose duty is to gather, and then to summarize, the daily news of the previous week or month or year.

The highest ideals of any profession are contained in its code of ethics. Journalism has gone a long way toward developing high standards, one of the most fundamental of which is contained in the principle that "there are two sides to every story."

Students Find Skill Required For All Languages

For hundreds of years, language students have used grammar books, exercise books, and dictionaries. Modern study aids for spoken language include: voice recordings with accompanying booklets, tapes and wires which permit students to listen, repeat, erase their own repetition, then try again; and foreign language motion pictures and radio or television programs. Scholars have counted 2,796 spoken languages.

Learning any language involves four different skills: speaking, understanding, reading, and writing.

By learning another language, one gains knowledge of the customs and ways of life of other nations. While learning French, the student finds out how Frenchmen live, behave, and think.

A foreign language can help add to one's knowledge of his own language. By studying Latin he can improve his understanding of many of the thousands of English words that come from Latin.

The up-to-date language lab at Bellevue High enables students to understand new material with less trouble.

A test, teachers' favorite pastime, is given here by Mrs. Summers to Spanish students.

Social Studies Prepare The Citizens Of Tomorrow

Senior Joel Lakin puts on a serious face to speak to his government class.

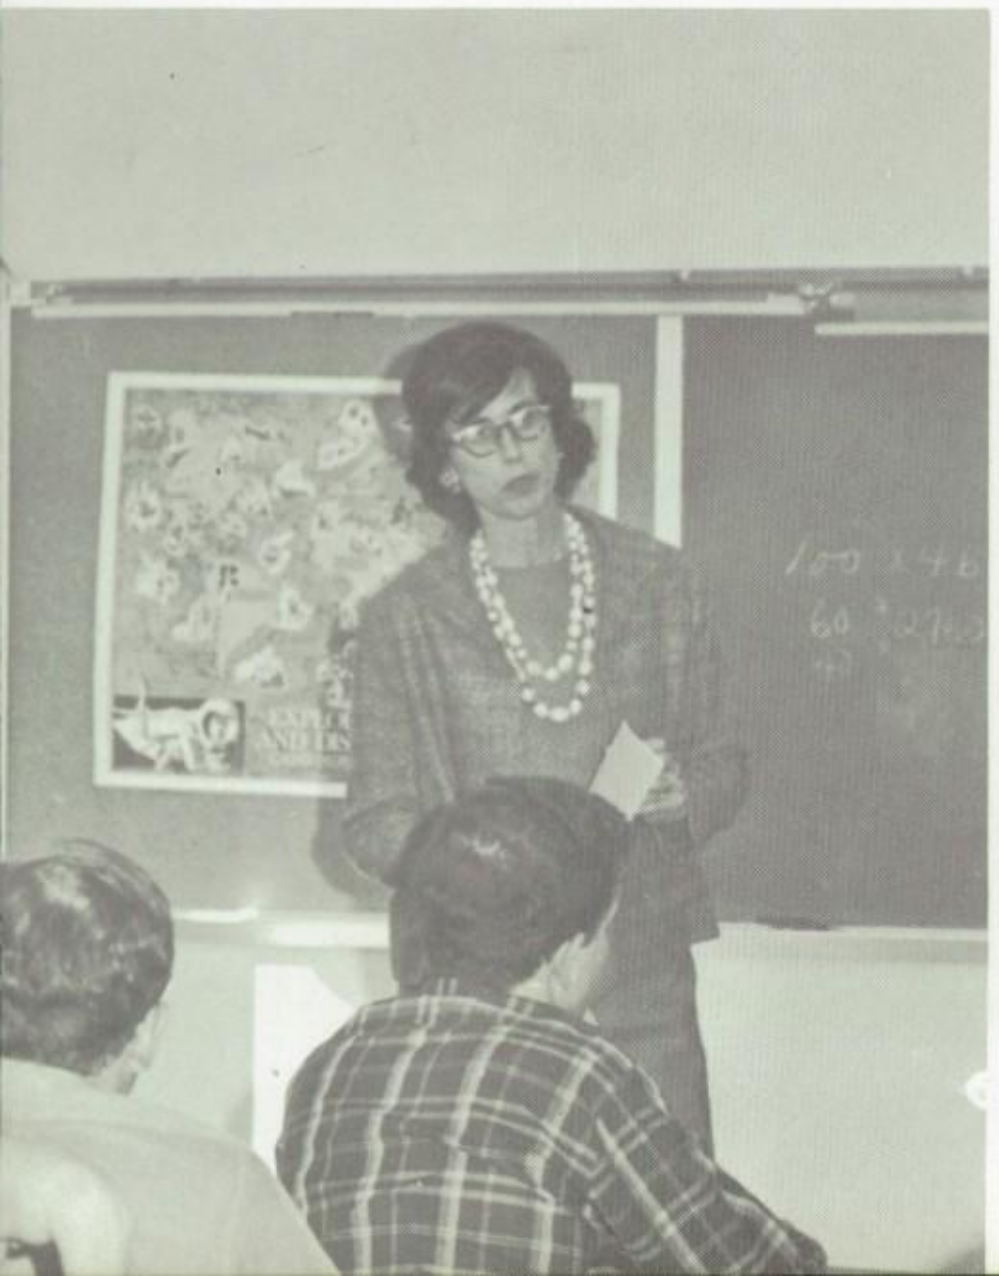
Social Studies is the program of citizenship provided by the Bellevue Schools. The social studies program organizes this subject matter for presentation to the students. Students generally study and specialize in one or more of the separate social sciences, such as history, geography, economics, political science and sociology.

BHS offers World History in grade 10, American History in grade 11, United States Government and Economics in grade 12.

A social studies course attempts to aid students in understanding and carrying on the basic human activities of production, exchange, conservation, and communication, and the protection of each. The historical changes that have come about in the techniques for carrying on these activities are important aspects of the Social Studies program. It also strives to develop competent leaders in local and national affairs.

A coordinated social studies program has a close relationship to history and its values. Each community of men has always carried on these and other basic human activities.

Mrs. Keene addresses her new government class.



And then, he shot me with the ray gun.

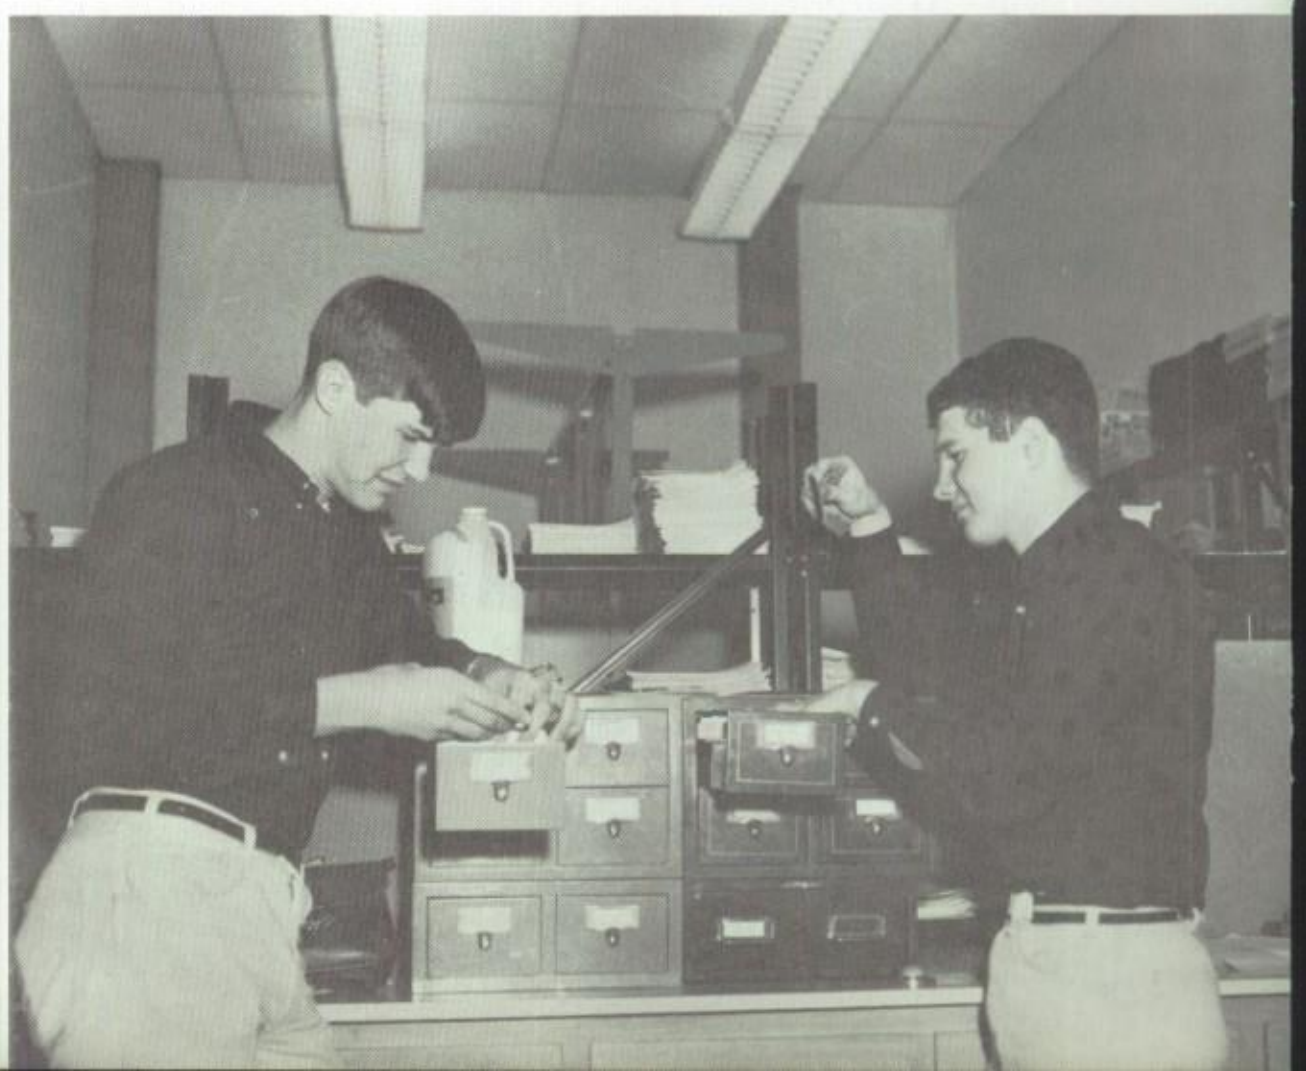
Debate Stimulates Student Body Thinking Power

Bill Stadtwald strives to make his important point clearly understood.

Debate, a series of formal spoken arguments for and against a definite proposal, is a fundamental activity at Bellevue Senior High. The problem is first recognized and investigated, and the best solutions are then approved and adopted.

In formal debating, the same number of persons speak for each side. They have the opportunity to reply directly to opposing speakers. Affirmative and negative speakers usually alternate, and all the speeches are limited in time. In informal debating the speeches are not necessarily limited in time. There may be no attempt to alternate opposing speakers, and also there may not be the same number of speakers on each side.

Some debating topics formerly used are "The granting of credit for extracurricular school activities is beneficial," or "Spectator sports in Bellevue should be abolished," or "Bellevue should require a four-year course in the basic sciences." After a subject has been selected, and the proposition carefully worded, the next step is analysis of the proposition by both debating teams.



Information for debate is easier to find when there's a filing system.

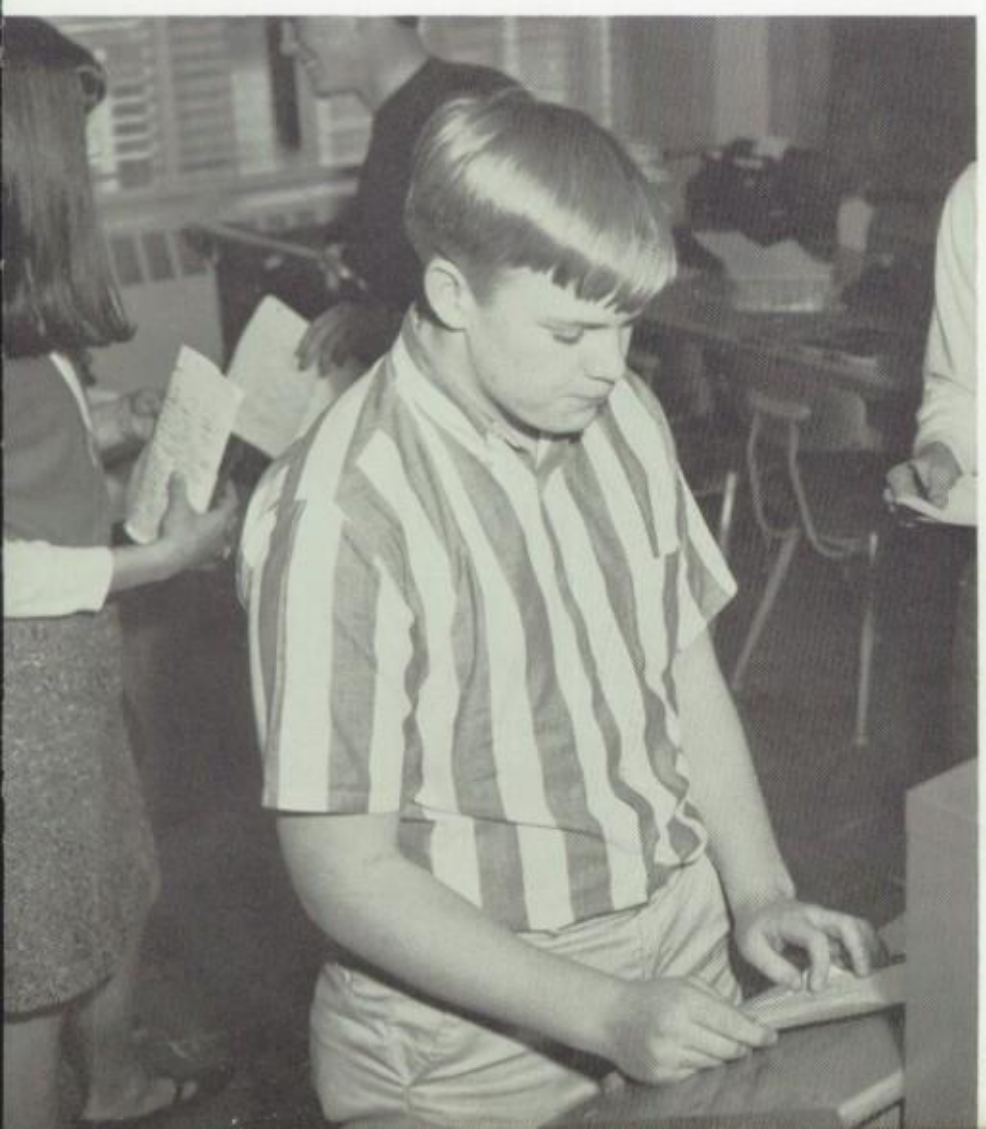
Speech and Drama Students Acquire Confidence

The life, customs, manner and general living habits of the world, have been mirrored by drama since its dim beginnings on the banks of the Nile in ancient Egypt about 6,000 years ago. It is the most simple way of recording human endeavor. Its purpose is to entertain and to instruct.

Man's morals, customs, and thoughts have been changed in content as well as reflected by the religious, social and human implications of drama.

Love of play acting seems to be a part of basic human nature at Bellevue. Almost everyone belongs to an organization of some kind.

In group and club meetings, there are many opportunities to make speeches. Persons who let others do the talking are destined to become the followers in the group. Training in effective public speaking is an essential part of training for leadership in any field of activity.



As they say, "practice makes perfect . . . sometimes."

Mr. Cumberland is always ready to assist students who are in need.

Mathematics is one of the most useful and fascinating areas of human knowledge. It may be defined as "the study of quantities and relationships through the use of numbers and symbols."

Various courses are available to the BHS student who is mathematically bent. These include Algebra I, Geometry, Algebra II, Advanced Math, and Advanced Math and Survey.

The science of mathematics first arose from attempts to solve practical problems, such as the number of cattle in a herd, or measuring the boundaries of a given piece of land. The ancient Greeks developed the two systems of math that are used today, pure and applied.

As in any other science, pure mathematics involves the theoretical aspects of math. For example, there can be no negative numbers, because you cannot have less than nothing or anything. Yet there is a whole system of negative numbers, as may be ascertained from any harassed geometry or Algebra II student.

Applied mathematics is a direct result of putting to use the theoretical ideas of pure mathematics. A pure mathematical number has a number of separate practical appliances. Theoretical systems are thus used in building, architecture, and systems of measurement.

Mathematics also has a lighter side, including hundreds of entertaining tricks, puzzles, and problems.

Mr. Krallman seems determined to get his point across.

The Sciences Cover Many Branches of Learning

Science covers the broad field of human knowledge concerned with facts held together by principles. Any subject which man can study by using the scientific method and other special rules of thinking is called a science.

The sciences include the physical and the social sciences. Scientific study is divided into the two areas, pure and applied. Pure science summarizes and explains the facts and principles discovered about the universe and its inhabitants. Applied science takes these scientific facts and principles and makes use of them in solving todays problems. Both pure science and applied science are necessary to bring the benefits of scientific research to mankind.

Students must take a minimum of one year of science. They may choose general science, biology, chemistry, or physics. Many students continue their education and study more than one field of science. High school science courses aid students in learning how the scientific method works and how our industrial society uses it. Other students study the applied sciences such as agronomy, aeronautics, or specialized shop courses.

High school biology, chemistry and physics courses show students how scientists obtain and arrange knowledge in these fields. Experiments illustrate what happens and how scientists use the scientific method. Individual projects provide young people with a chance to be creative in science, and to apply known scientific concepts to fields that interest them. They work alone to perform an experiment, to complete a collection, or to build a model. This work helps them gain an idea of what scientific research involves.

BHS Finds Business the American Way Of Life

Throughout Bellevue's history, organized business has grown steadily in importance. Today, through the wages, interests, rents, and profits which it pays out, it is the largest source of yearly income of Bellevue. There are more than 4,000,000 business firms in the United States today.

Besides supplying our daily wants and needs, business provides us with many other important benefits. Through the mass selling of labor-saving devices it has given the people more leisure time. At the same time, it has distributed widely such varied aids to leisure time, recreational and educational, such as automobiles, books, motion pictures, TV sets, cameras, fishing rods, pianos, and hobby materials. Business has given part of its profits to establish and maintain colleges, museums, art galleries, and other public institutions. It also supports a large part of the scientific and cultural research carried on in our great universities and independent laboratories.

Every activity involves the work of several groups of persons — the owner or the investor who buys stock in the company, the executives who manage the firm, the workmen who produce the goods or services, the merchants and salesmen who sell these, and the consumer who uses them. "Business is people."

Home Economics Course Encourages Self Development

Homemaking is an important activity of all peoples of all lands. The home is the backbone of every nation, whatever kind it may be.

Home Economics offers much assistance in personality development. The study of little children helps in understanding one's self. Study of Home Economics also helps to develop poise and self-confidence. Knowing how to order food in a restaurant and how to dress attractively adds much to anyone's self-assurance. Knowledge of good manners helps put people at their ease in meeting others.

Denise Sigler, Kathy Kouba struggle to maintain serious faces for the camera.

The Home Economics program at Bellevue High includes the study of personality growth, family relationships, child growth and developments, money management, home hygiene, clothing, housing, and the care of the sick.

For Senior Home Economics students, knitting and sewing instructions filled the first semester. The second semester was spent on cooking, wedding planning, and problems of married life.

The Home Economics I and II classes studied such subjects as personal appearance, health, nutrition, human relations, child guidance, and textiles.

As a Christmas project all the Home Economics students baked cookies and candy for the Administration Christmas Tea which is held annually.

Chorus Plays Active Part In Programs at BHS

The chorus, adorned in new stoles, began their public appearances with the fall program, "Choral Highlights" in the auditorium. This was followed by a trip to Eppley Airport in December where they sang in the lobby.

Falling into the Christmas spirit, the chorus presented their annual "Christmas Carol Concert" to the student body and the general public.

The highlight of the year was the group's appearance on KETV in the spring. Following this was the District Music Contest, in which several BHS students received superior ratings.

In conjunction with the drama department, the chorus produced "My Fair Lady" ending the year on a delightful note.

Bellevue senior, Kevin Duffy, seems to have something other than chorus on his mind at the moment.

BHS Band Students Learn Precision Requires Skill

Under the guidance of director Mr. Duane Stehlik, the Chieftain marching band spent long hours practicing in order to perform well at the halftime shows of Bellevue's home games. The band also attended the annual University of Nebraska Band Day, which was held on October 2nd in Lincoln. Added to this were state and national contests which were established to select the best high school bands. Both the concert and the marching bands took part in these events.

The Bellevue marching band has developed far newer and more elaborate marching procedures than many military bands. They used faster tempos, featured a drum major, and provided added enjoyment in the form of the school drill team, the Bellevedettes. By setting a mood with their music, and grouping themselves into certain letters or shapes, the band often told a complete story during the show. This story may have been about any of a number of things, including the history and traditions of Bellevue or Nebraska.

School marching bands, such as this one, offer more than entertainment. They help the student to master a musical instrument; they teach him the importance of following directions accurately; they help him to learn self-control.

Assembled immediately after football season has ended, the orchestra performs at many school assemblies, plays for the spring musical, and presents concerts throughout the year.

Band Important Part Of BHS Functions

The Bellevue High School Pep Band celebrates its fifth year in existence. This twenty-piece band played for all home basketball games and pep rallies. Included in this busy schedule were football games and other athletic events. The new leader, Dave Doughty, will take over the job of directing the Dixieland music and popular tunes from Monte Lund, this year's director.

Last year students joined on a voluntary basis, this year was by audition only. Uniform requirements must be met to be a member. The group's uniforms are new this year, consisting of derbies, red vests, and purple garters.

As a twin to the Pep Band, the Bellevue High School Dance Band also celebrated its fifth birthday. Among its activities was the tenth annual matinee musical.

Pep Band member Rick Billings is anxiously eyeing the game score.

Bellevue High Pep Band has important place in all the pep rallies and games.

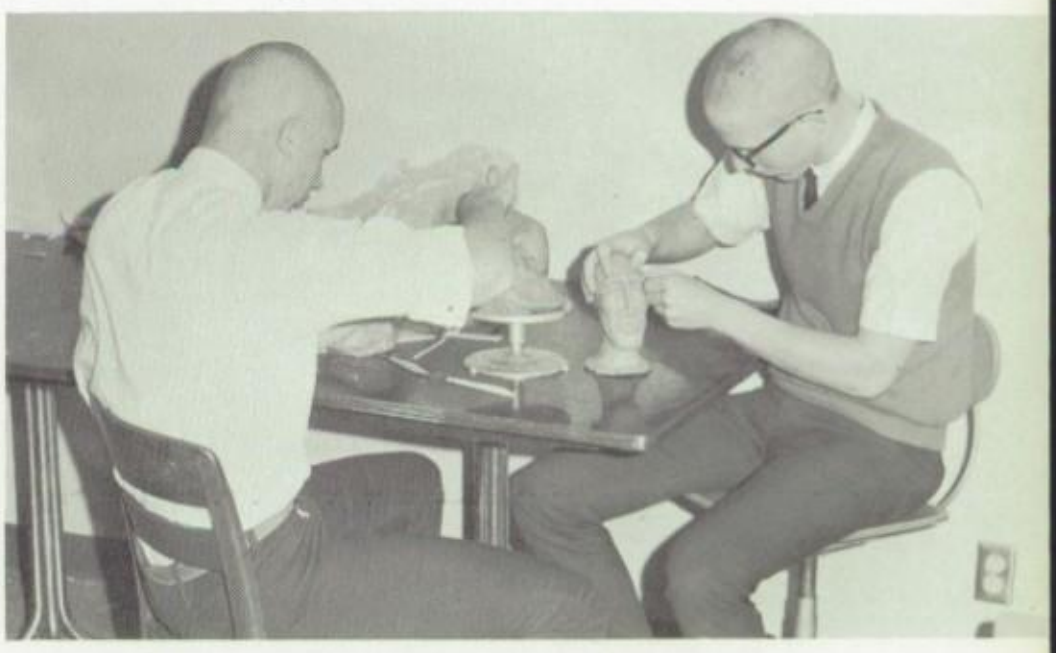
Art Courses Stimulate Talent and Self-Expression

Art has been defined as "the manifestation of emotion obtaining external interpretation by expressive arrangements of line, form, or color, now by a series of gestures, sounds or words governed by particular rhythmical cadence."

Preparatory activities provided Art I students with a study of the basic fundamentals. They covered free-hand drawing, color theory, lettering, art history and appreciation.

The second year students covered such projects as dress designing and were responsible for help on "My Fair Lady."

Modern theory and practice of art education is the outcome of a gradual development in social economics, and general cultural conditions since the renaissance. Before this, the production of articles as well as the training of men with the special function of the workshop, was an essential part of the craft guilds.



It's not hard to recognize the model for this figure.

Art students work on projects which show their individuality as well as artistic abilities.

Reading Is Found To Be A Basic Tool Of Education

Reading is the art of interpreting printed and written words. It is a basic tool of education and one of the most important skills in everyday life. We live in a world of printed words. Through reading we acquire new ideas, obtain needed information, and broaden our interests. All these achievements can lead to a happier, more successful life.

There are three basic reading courses. Reading I and II were combined as a course for students with special problems in reading.

Reading III is a developmental course in speed and comprehension. Note taking and listening are the main ingredients of Reading III, a second semester course.

But people do not read only in school and at work. There are many other uses of this vital skill that provide continuous self-improvement and enjoyment.

Resource Room, Center Of Various Activities

Colorful bulletin board designs and other drawings were a speciality of the Resource Center throughout the year. First semester, Mr. Nelson, art instructor for three years previous to this year, then Resource Center instructor, aided Art III students in these projects. As the second semester approached, the Resource Center found itself with a new addition, Mr. Siegfried Reichenberg, taking on the responsibilities of the head of the Resource Center. Students and teachers have found him very eager to help them in any way, no matter what time of the day or after school.

The film strips, manual and electric typewriters, opaque projectors, slide projectors, overhead projectors, slide viewers and tape recorders are found housed in Bellevue's audio-visual center, providing both students and faculty an abundance of materials.

Students use "infernal machine" to test their reflex reaction to danger.

To produce good, safe drivers is the goal of drivers education, a semester course offered to all students who are at least 15 1/2 years old.

This year, under the guidance of Mr. Jack Wood, students gained valuable experience behind the wheel and were able to observe other drivers. They developed responsible attitudes and realized the importance of safe, courteous and alert driving.

During class, the students learned to distinguish the different parts of a car and how they are assembled. They also learned how to cope with emergencies such as flat tires.

To teach students the hazards of the road and the results of a moment's carelessness, and that a driver can never be too cautious, films and lectures were given to the students.

The experience and knowledge that a future driver gains in drivers education will not only help to insure his safety, but the safety of other drivers and passengers.

Mr. Wood explains fundamentals of driving.

Shop Students Start New Four Phase Program

The addition of a new planer and drum shaper by the school board, added beauty and quality to the projects of wood shop students this year. Projects included a telephone stand, a colonial style cabinet, poker table, coffee tables, a walnut desk, bookshelves for the student lounge, and numerous pairs of waterskis. Wood shop also turned out a number of balance beams used in elementary school physical education.

General shop students this year tackled a four phase program of industrial arts, composed of electrical work, woodworking, mechanical drawing, and metals, designed to help them choose their future course of study.

Auto shop was honored again this year by being invited to send a two man team to the Plymouth troubleshooting contest held in Lincoln. Contestants this year will work on 1967 Plymouth Barracudas.

Physical Education Vital Part Of Bellevue Curriculum

Physical Education forms an important part of the modern program of general education. It includes physical activities and sports of all kinds designed to improve posture, physical development, and general fitness and health. Programs in physical education cover a wide variety of activities. These include swimming, exercises, archery, golf, tennis, baseball, basketball and wrestling.

Instructors teach health and safety, including the principles of hygiene, nutrition and general physical care. Sportsmanship is also emphasized along with desirable personality traits and character qualities. There are intramural sports programs, as well as varsity competition between schools.

Sophomore classes emphasize physical fitness and team sports. Although required only for sophomores, physical education attracts juniors and seniors. Upper classmen concentrated on individual activities with carry-over value.

Student Life

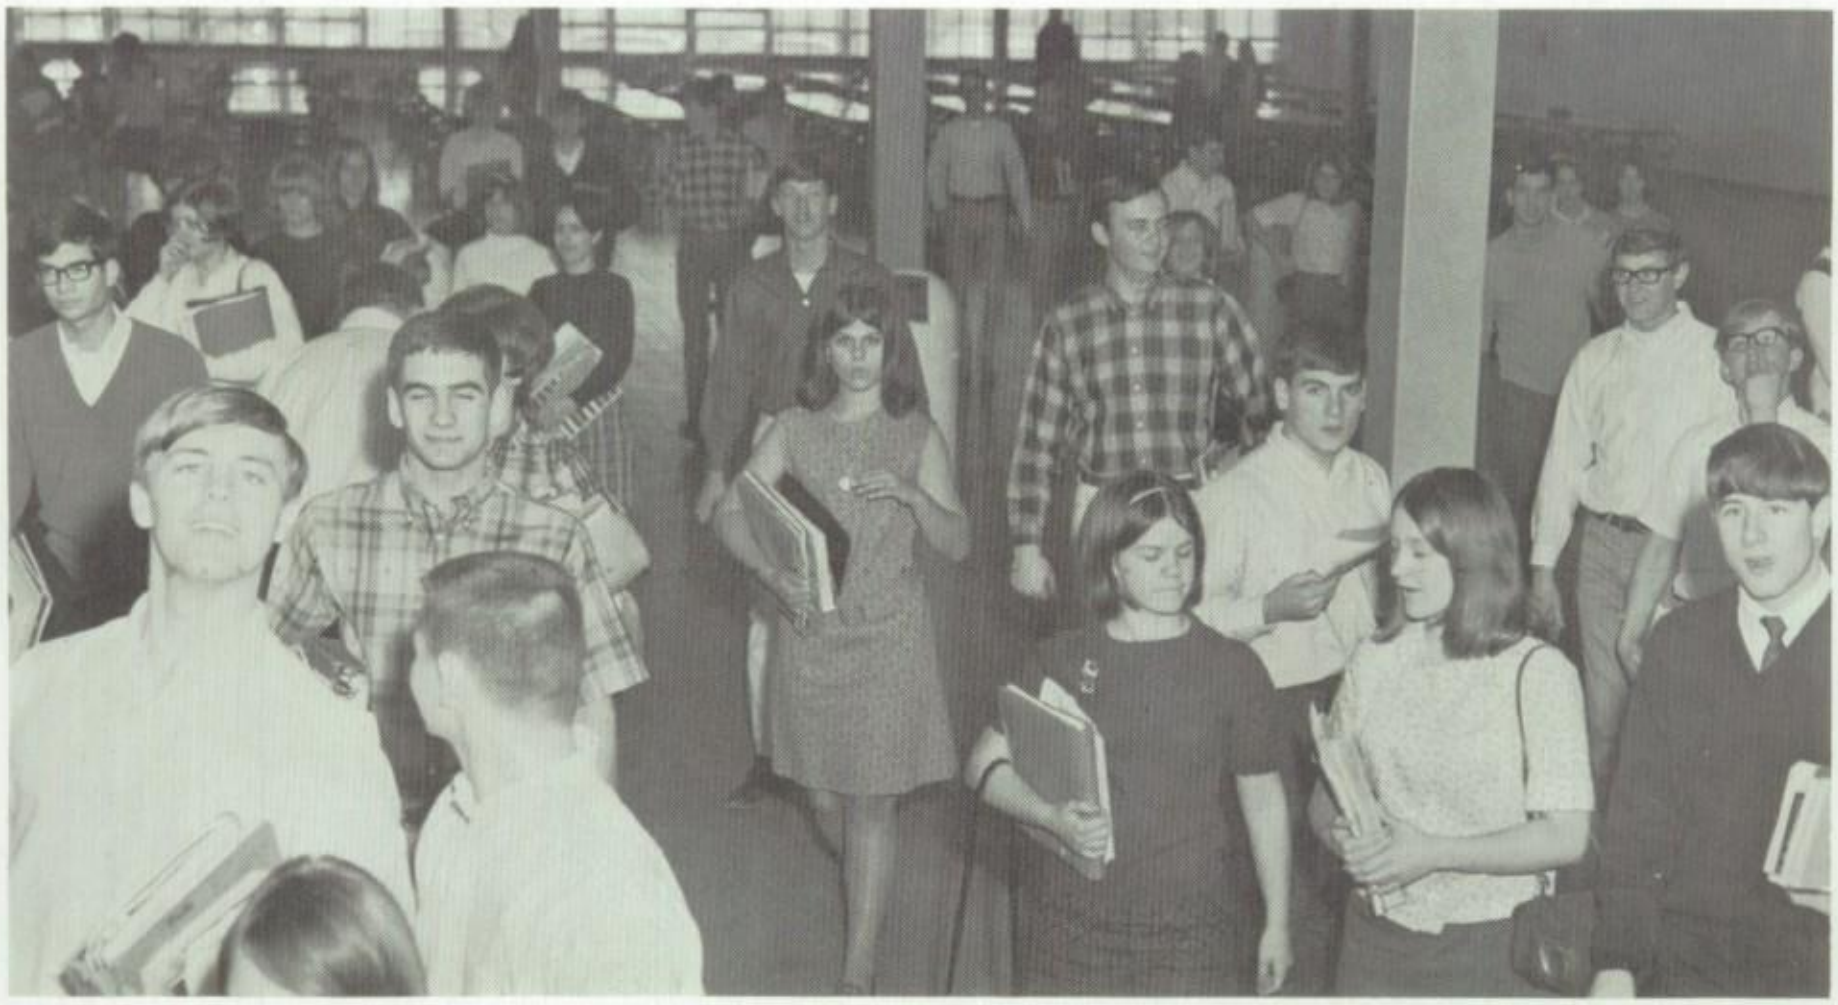
CENTENNIAL

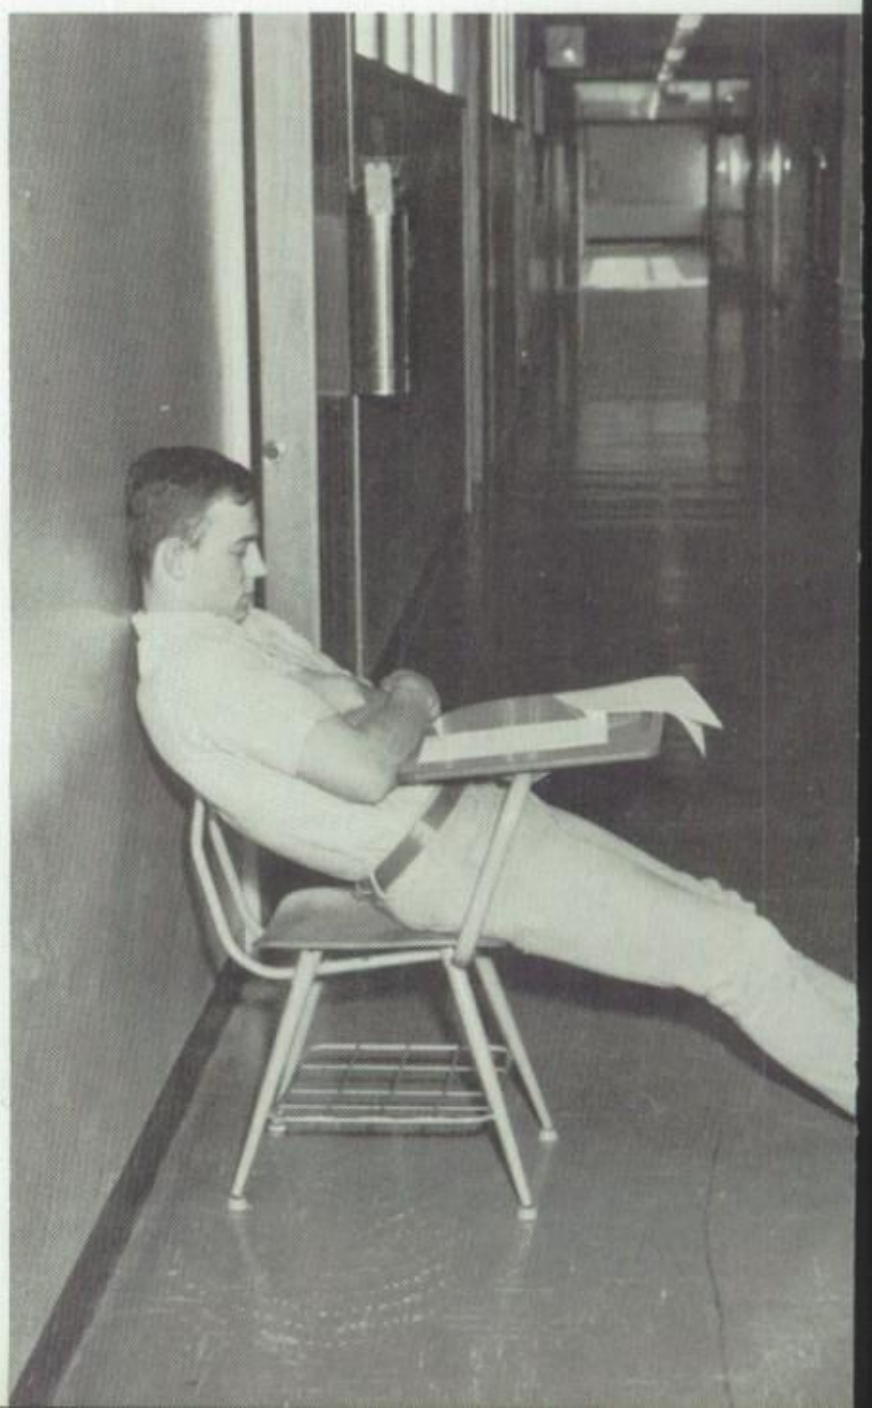
Welcome to NEBRASKAland

where the West begins

1867-1967

What will you remember most about Bellevue High? Most students will not remember their classroom work, nor will they think about the homework they did, and only a few of them will remember their teachers or fellow students. They will remember, instead, the dances they went to, the dates they had, their first "steady," and how excited they were to get class rings, the letters they wrote to the Tom Tom, the excitement of the first day of school and the joy at the last day. They will remember how they felt as Sophomores, and how their Senior class was the "Best Ever." They will remember all these things and many more. There was the time that Westside stole the victory bell, and the time the Class of '68 painted the sidewalks, and how the Class of '67 had their Senior Skip Day. They will recall with fondness the picnics in the spring, and ice-skating in the winter. They will remember the feeling that they got when they realized that they were Seniors at last. They will remember the last Homecoming or Snow-Ball, or Prom. They will remember the "countdown" to Graduation, and how they felt when the big day finally arrived, also that they hated to leave what had been their home for the last few years. They will remember with pride, joy, and perhaps a little bit of sorrow, that last walk down the aisle to receive their diplomas, and that they tried to hide their tears from showing. Yes, they will remember many things about Bellevue High School; what will you remember?





BHS Presents Comedy, 'Take Her, She's Mine'

Take Her, She's Mine is the story of a young girl, her experiences as a college student, and the problems and worries of her confused father. The play was presented in the Bellevue High School Little Theater on November 17, 18, and 19.

Molly Michaelson said a fond farewell to her parents and sister to go off into the wild blue yonder of Hawthorne College for Women. At Hawthorne she becomes immersed in many types of college "activities," ranging in interest from beatniks to boys — all kinds!

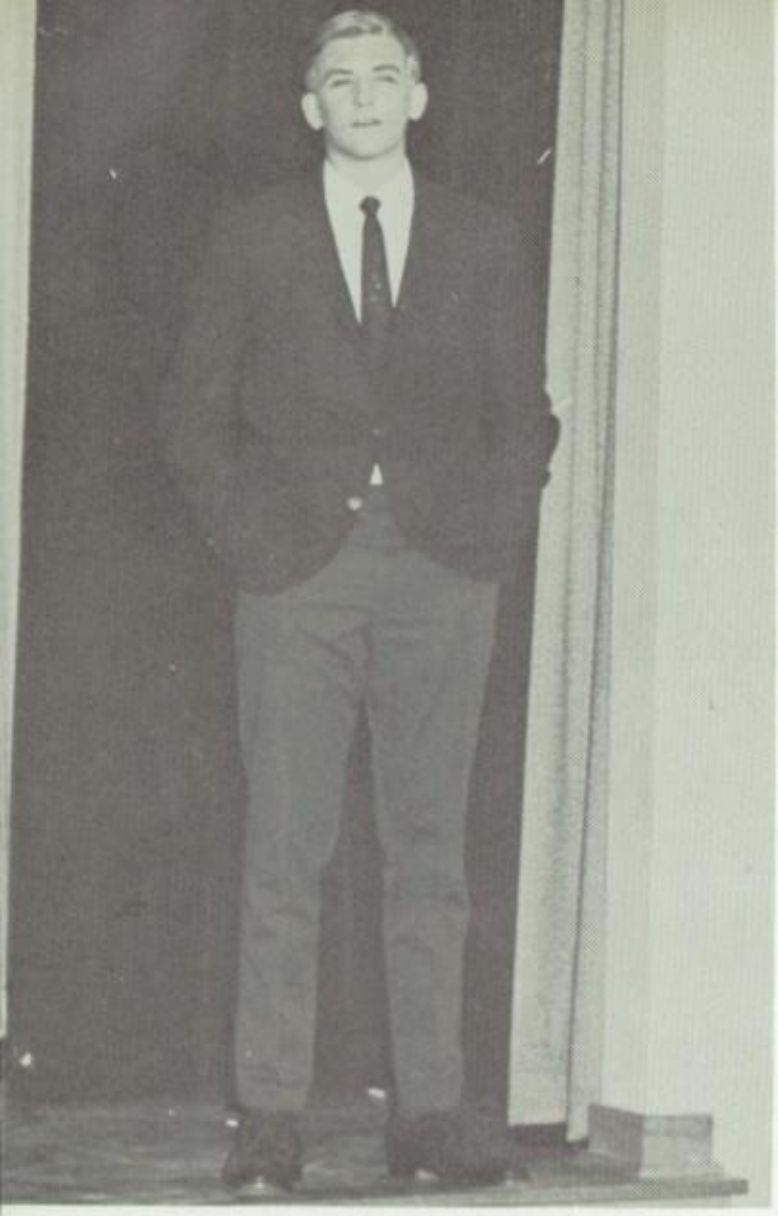
Frank Michaelson, a typical All-American type father, doesn't feel sure that the decision to send Molly so far away from home was one of his most outstanding ideas. Ann, Molly's mother, tries to convince him that it is time for him to realize that Molly is grown up and will soon be leading her own life.

During the annual Father-Daughter weekend at Hawthorne, Frank decides to look in on Molly's college life. To his distress, he finds that she is working in a coffee shop as a beatnik singer. That was to become the shortest-lived job in Molly's life.

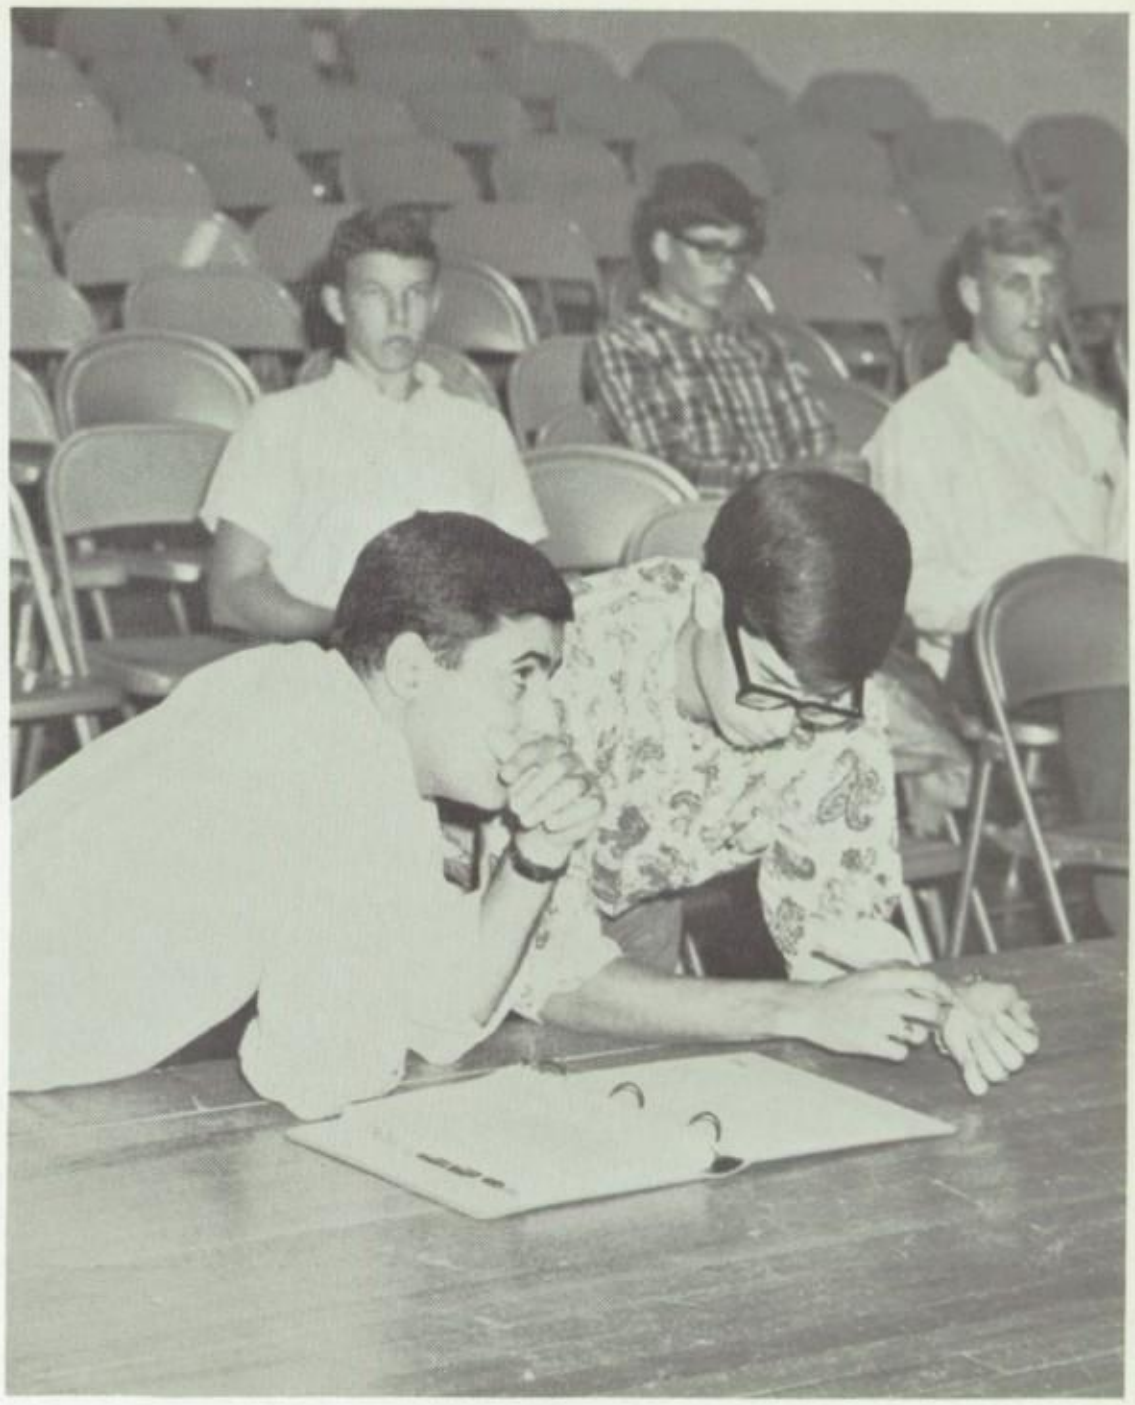
The next big problem arises when Molly decides that she is not too sure that college life is for her. She therefore decides that she will quit school and get a job. This, of course, upsets everyone to an even greater degree. At this point, however, the hero enters. Alex, a man Molly met while at Hawthorne, finally convinces her to go back to school. Then, as in any good love story, Alex and Molly decide to get married and live "happily ever after."

The cast, including nine Seniors, six Juniors, and three Sophomores, is as follows: Tom Kodera, The Principal; Patty Sutton, Molly Michaelson; Mike Wagner, Frank Michaelson ; Michele Sweezy and Sherry Wiedemaier, Ann and Liz Michaelson, respectively; Dave Harris, Emmett; Chris Roth, Adele McCougall; Ann Claudio, Sarah Walker; Mark Pinkerton, Donn Bowdry; Richhard Ripley, 1st Freshman; Ronald Schmidt, 2nd Freshman; Court Lassetter, Richard Gluck; Dave Hale, Alfred Grieffinger; Allan Wood, Clancy; and Roger Snowden, Mr. Hibberts.

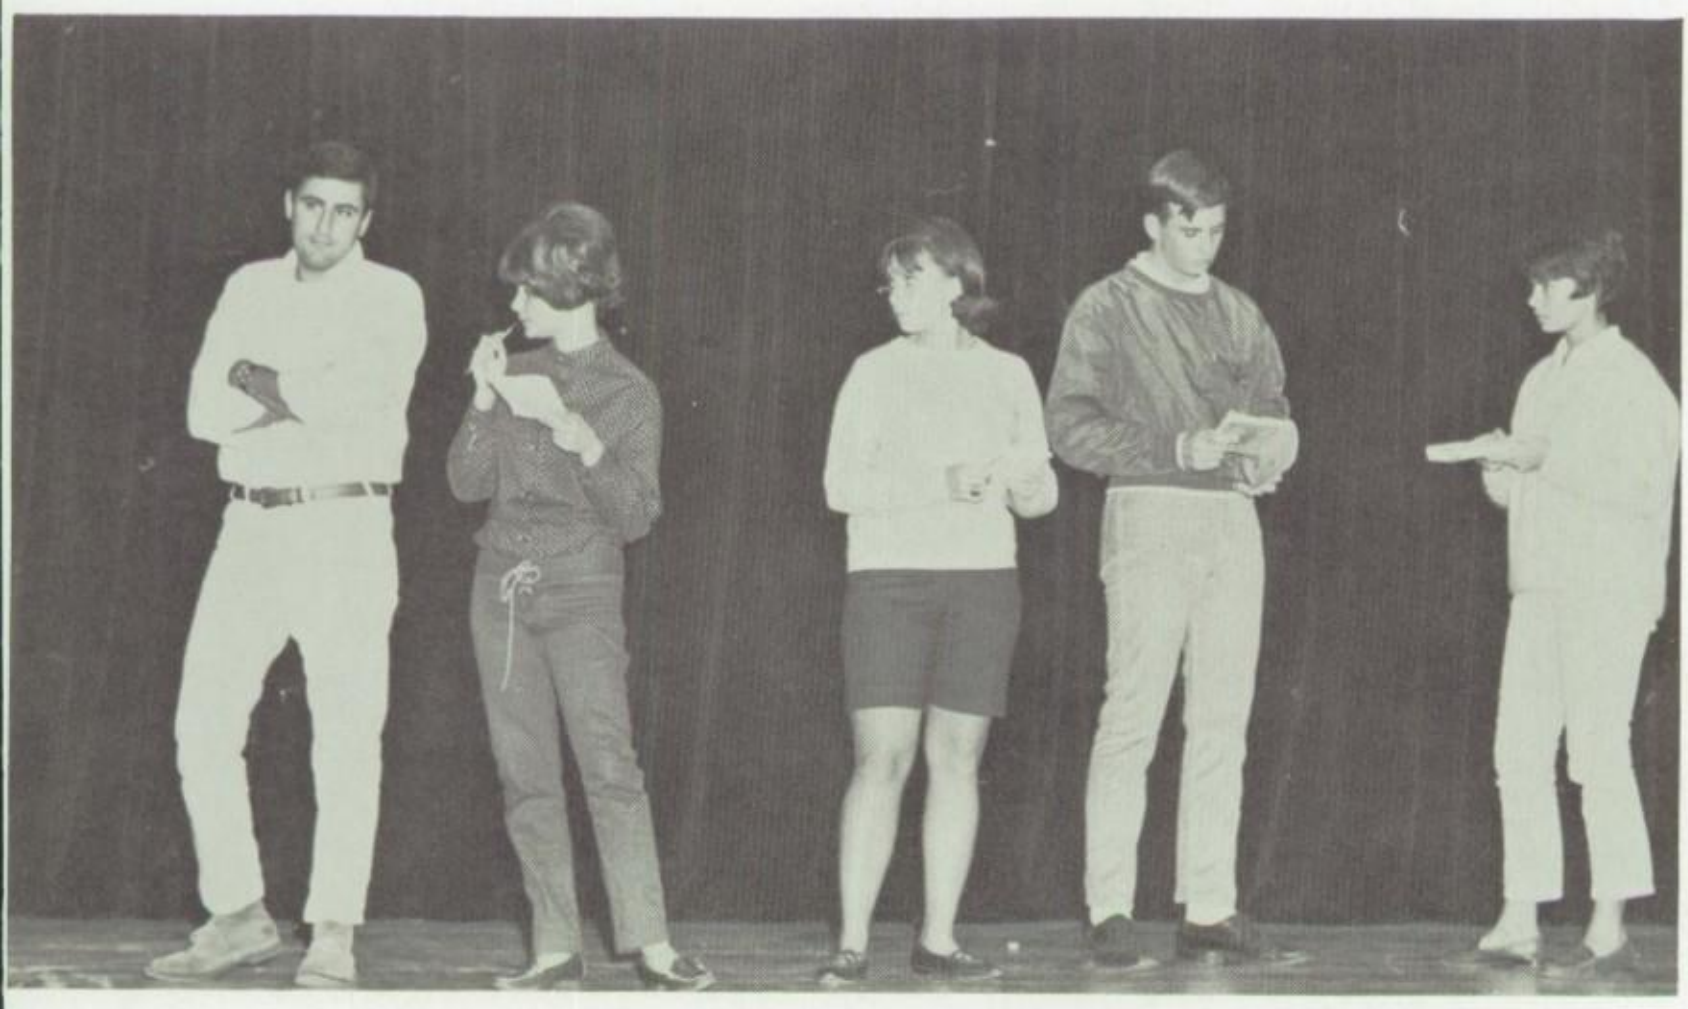
Girl watching is the all-American pastime for the "college crowd."



Molly's father, as portrayed by Mike Wagner, philosophizes on his daughter's antics at college.



Mr. Wayne David discusses sound, lighting, and scenery with members of the stage crew.



A director must be an actor too, so he is able to interpret each actor's movements accurately.

Homecoming Dance Climaxes Activity-Filled Week

An activity-filled week set the stage for a spirited pep rally and one of the hardest fought Homecoming games on record.

As in other years, the days preceding the 1966 Homecoming game boasted such oddities as Clash Day and Mourn the Rockets Day, all of which boosted the Chieftain Spirit in preparation for the climax of the activities, the crowning of the king and queen at the Homecoming Dance at the end of the week.

The Homecoming pep rally was especially interesting. Co-captains of the varsity squad, Jim Patterson and Mike Craney, and team coach Mr. Bill James, were flown to the outdoor rally in a helicopter borrowed from a nearby airfield.

Homecoming Parade was a bit depleted as class floats made no showing, but even this could not dampen the spirits of those viewing the exciting and colorful spectacle. The parade, based on the theme "A Hundred Year's Progress", took place in downtown Bellevue and the floats were judged by distinguished Bellevue and Omaha businessmen.

First place in the float competition was handed to the Pep Club for their entry, "Chieftains Beat Rockets."

Second place went to the German Club float entitled "Making of a City."

The queen candidates were introduced to the public as they rode by in open convertibles. Following this came the marching Chieftain band, led by the high-stepping Bellevedettes.

Queen: Molly Stewart
King: Jim Patterson

Dancing to the tune of "I Love You Babe" were the newly-crowned King and Queen of the 1966 annual Homecoming dance, Jim Patterson and Molly Stewart. This year's dance was held in the BHS Student Lounge from 8-11 p.m. on Saturday, September 24, following the game with Northeast on Friday night.

The six Homecoming Queen candidates were selected by the B-Club, while the Chieffettes voted on the King candidates. The entire student body then voted on the final choice of King and Queen. The Queen was announced at the Friday night game, and the King at the dance on Saturday. The other ten candidates included Kim Riggs, Pat Stoddard, Denise Sigler, Linda Grubb, Susan Dennis, Andy Riddle, Bill Newby, Art Haney, Dito Ladd, and Kirk Koehler.

During her three years at Bellevue, Molly has acquired many friends among the student body. She is a member of the Emoclew Club, was a B-Team cheerleader, and has been active in intramural sports.

Jim Patterson has been an active participant in sports at Bellevue, lettering in football, basketball, and track. This year he was Co-Captain of the football team and was the President of the B-Club.

'66 Sno-Ball Highlighted As Wilson, Koehler Reign

Leading a "court" of excited BHS students in the coronation ball were the newly crowned King and Queen of the Sno-Ball, Denise Wilson and Kirk Koehler.

The Sno-Ball Queen candidates were chosen this year by the Senior Executive Board. The final choice of Queen was made by the entire student body. The six candidates were: Denise Wilson, Susan Dennis, Kathy Olin, Pat Stoddard, Denise Sigler, Linda Grubb. Art Haney, Andy Riddle, Dave Eyster, Dito Ladd, Kirk Koehler, and Howard Womeldorph were the six king candidates.

During her career at Bellevue, Denise Wilson has made a name for herself in the academic area, as well as in the world of student affairs. She has been in the National Honor Society for two years, and was a finalist in the National Merit competition, as well as winning a Nebraska Regents scholarship. Denise has served on various committees in the past, including Prom, Sno-Ball, and Homecoming Committees. She has been a member of the Pep Club for three years and is President this year.

Kirk Koehler's name is most often connected with sports events at Bellevue. He has competed in track, football, and basketball. He lettered in all three sports, and was captain of the varsity basketball squad this year.

Traditional Christmas Social Enchants Students

Enchanted couples walked down lanes lighted with street lamps and entered through an archway of evergreens, to greet other young people who had already passed through the doorway in the excitement of the 1966 Sno-Ball.

Held in the Student Lounge from 8-11 p.m., the biggest event of the Christmas season was an immediate success. It was indeed an "Old-Fashioned Christmas," as everyone danced amidst surroundings consisting of a huge Christmas tree in the center of the floor, and watched a merry fireside scene complete with stockings. And of course, no Christmas dance would be complete without the traditional mistletoe which complimented an already romantic atmosphere.

The crowning of Kirk Koehler and Denise Wilson as the 1966 Sno-Ball King and Queen added the finishing touches to the storybook effect of this year's Christmas social.

Master of Ceremonies for the dance was senior Danny Foster, with the music of the Starfires setting the mood for the traditionally Senior-sponsored dance.

BHS Faculty Designates

Every year for the past five years, the faculty at Bellevue chooses six seniors whom they feel have made outstanding contributions to the school and the student body. These six are then honored by the "Chieftain Awards."

Susan Dennis is best known for her cheerleading activities at BHS. She has been on the squad for three years, and is the captain this year. Susan is also a member of the Emoclew Club, Chiefettes, and is active in the Student Council. She has been a candidate for both Sno-Ball and Homecoming Queen, and was the Senior Representative for Chieftain Princess.

When BHS students think of Lyn Sorrelle, the word that comes to their minds is "busy." Lyn has been in Pep Club for three years, a member of the National Honor Society for two years, and a member of the National Thespians Society. She has been chairman of the Prom, Sno-Ball, and Homecoming, and is treasurer of the Student Council. She was also a winner in the Nebraska Regents Scholarship Examinations.

Denise Wilson, president of the Pep Club, is a member of the National Honor Society and the Student Council, and is on the Image Board. She has served on Homecoming and Sno-Ball committees, and was elected to be Sno-Ball Queen of 1967. Not neglecting her academic career, Denise was a Nebraska Regents Scholarship winner, and was a finalist in the National Merit competition.

By virtue of being among the top ten scorers in the Nebraska Regents tests, Jim Finnegan is a member of the Nebraska All-State Scholastic Team. Under the theory that "all work and no play makes Jim a dull boy," Jim has competed in both intramural and intermural sports, is a member of the Math Club, treasurer of the Latin Club, and a member of the Senior Class Executive Board. Jim is also in the National Honor Society at Bellevue.

Although he has only attended Bellevue for two years, Dito Ladd has shown himself to be a very versatile and outgoing student. He has participated in athletics at Bellevue, in the form of varsity golf and varsity basketball. He was elected Most Valuable Player of the golf team in his Junior year. This year, Dito was president of the Safe-Teens Club, and was elected President of the Senior Class.

Kirk Koehler is well known for his participation in sports at Bellevue. He has been on the track and basketball teams for three years, and the football team for two years. Kirk lettered in all three sports, was captain of the '67 basketball team, and was chosen 1967 Sno-Ball King.

Junior Nancy Terrill Takes '67 Princess Honor

The feathers on the big Chieftain war bonnet showed an overwhelming victory for junior Nancy Terrill as this year's reigning Chieftain Princess.

Affiliated with the sales of the Chieftain, votes were cast by students as they purchased their yearbook. Offering a change from previous years, the votes were registered on three Indian war bonnets with feathers added periodically to show the latest vote count.

Only the third junior in the history of the competition ever to win the coveted title, Nancy Terrill took the beginning lead and stayed there throughout the entire voting period. Selected as a candidate by her fellow '68ers, Nancy has been a member of Pep Club for two years and is presently a member of the Bellevedettes, Bellevue High School's drill team. She is also treasurer of the Junior Class and represents them in the Student Council.

Occupying second place position was senior Susan Dennis. Susan was also a candidate for Chieftain Princess as a sophomore. She has contributed to the school spirit at Bellevue by serving all three high school years as a cheerleader. When a sophomore, she was one of the junior varsity squad, and then the remaining two years as varsity cheerleader and this year as captain. Susan is also active in student affairs. She was president of her Sophomore Class, served on the Junior Executive Board as a junior, and is now a member of the Student Council.

Sophomore Beth Mawrence came in a close third. Beth served on the Student Council as a freshman at the junior high and now is representing the sophomores in the same capacity. She is a member of the Spanish Club and is a part of the girl's swimming team.

Many times, our generation has been heard to comment on the world we live in. Usually, it is to say that we do not like it. "Why," we ask, "should we be forced to live in a world with hatred and war, a world that we had no part in making?" "Why should we suffer for the mistakes of our parents?" And yet, deep down inside, we realize the folly of these questions. Of course our parents made mistakes. We have made, and will no doubt continue to make, many mistakes. So, we prepare ourselves, each in our own way, to take over where our elders left off. We go to school to try to learn how to avoid making the same mistakes that others have made. When we graduate from high school, many of us will go into the armed services, some never to return. Others will go on to a college or university, while still others will get vocational or other training. But, no matter what we do when we graduate, we will remember the years that we spent in high school as a worth-while experience, no matter how much we grumble now. These years are the ones that are preparing us to take on the famous "cloak of responsibility" that all of us must wear sooner or later. The faces shown on these pages may one day be seen on the front page of a newspaper, a magazine, or perhaps on the silver screen. The majority of these people will never be famous. They will make up the vast unknown number of people who move in the background, quietly supporting the nation, the backbone of the world. Today, the Chieftain, tomorrow the world!

What is a Senior . . .

A senior is a leader of the student body, someone who is responsible for his thoughts, and his words. He is facing the most important event in his young life: graduation. After graduation, the road of life becomes steeper and more rugged. The highway twists and turns, and as the road climbs higher, some fall by the wayside and are unable to go on. Those who are strong—those who are ambitious—strive ever onward to the summit. They reach the pinnacle of life—success. At the moment, no one knows who the vanquished and the victors will be. It remains for the seniors of Bellevue High to go on with their struggle, to scale the mountains and cross the valleys of the treacherous road of life.

I'm writing to you, I'm almost speechless. I think that you are so wonderful in so many ways. I only wish there were more people like you in education; it would make the growing pains much easier to take. You know, it is just marvelous when a counselor really cares about YOU. Counselling is a lot better if the counselor is not just a mentor but also a friend. You've found the key to this and, as far as I'm concerned, you have the absolute GREATEST. I wish you the bestest of luck. This is not and empty phrase; you deserve it and I mean it above this I can only say thanks, Mrs. Ralph thanks ever so much SHALOM

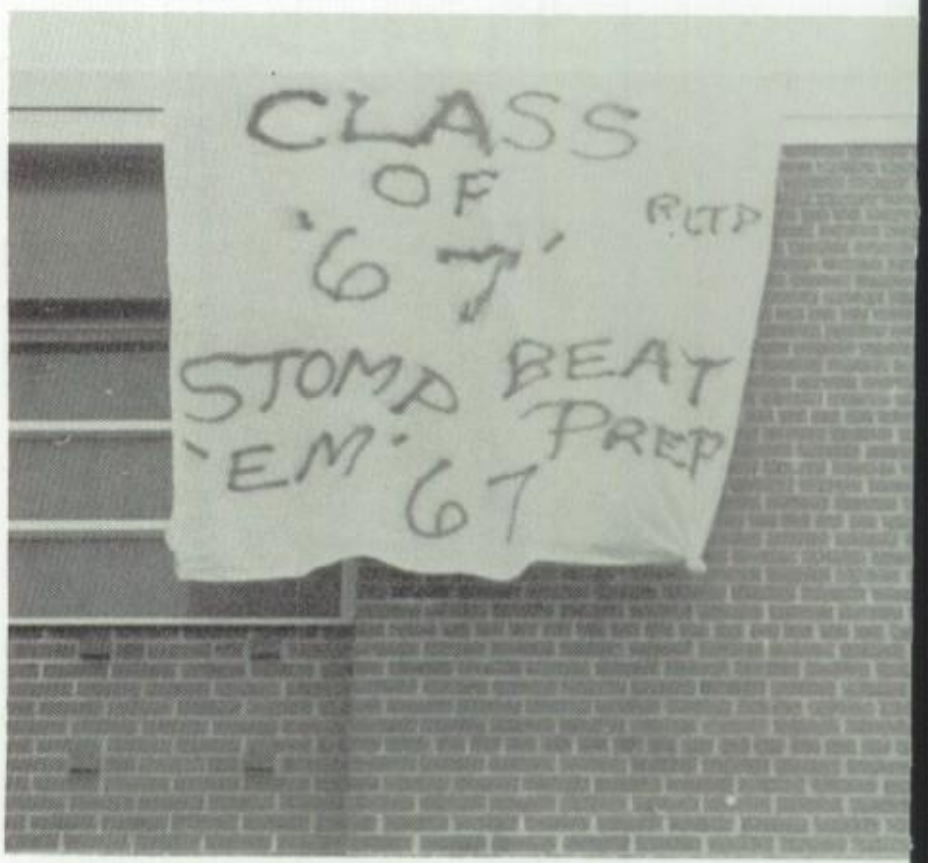
'67 . . . It Was A

"Kirk, may I please have a bite of your peanut butter sandwich?"

"I know it's 11:00 and I know what you're thinking, Mr. Boilesen, but . . ."



Never let it be said that '67 had no school spirit.

Very Good Year

"We've made it through second hour, let's see how far we get through third."

"My dog's better 'n your dog!"

"Gee, fellas"

Juniors Dominate Wee-Sok-Um Scene At Rallies

The junior class started the year in a succession of Wee-Sok-Um victories. Gathering their forces they managed to dominate the pep rallies with their show of school spirit.

As the year continued their thoughts turned to their responsibility of sponsoring the junior-senior prom. The problem of money became the topic of conversation as the class officers strove to think up new money-making projects. Among the more ingenious devices were beanie sales, pizza sales, and collecting class dues.

At the end of the year the class began looking ahead to their senior year and graduation. The Class of 1968 will long remember their junior year and all their experiences.

Boys' State to the prospective Junior candidates.

Class of 1969 Tops Semester Honor Roll

As the newest and youngest class, the sophomores not only had to adjust to a new year and new friends, they had to adjust to a new school and a new status.

Being the most numerous class didn't seem to help the Class of 1969 in the Wee-Sok-Um trials, but their school spirit was constantly in evidence.

In the late fall the sophomores began their canned goods drive. The class netted a generous amount to give to charity.

Scholastically the sophomores held their own by dominating the honor roll several times and shining in many scholastic contests.

The Class of 1969 hopes the years to come are as memorable as this one has been.

"Hmm . . . The Adventures of Phil Schaefer!"

For Semra Krahraman her senior year was definitely unique. Semra arrived August 19 from Istanbul, Turkey. Acting as hostess to the Foreign Exchange Student was Mary Jane Stolz, a junior at BHS.

Semra graduated from a Turkish high school, Besitas Kis Lisesi in Istanbul and was therefore spending her second year as a senior. She has taken six years of English and speaks French and German.

Semra's mother, father, and three younger sisters live in Istanbul where her father, who is a Major in the Turkish Army, is stationed.

She has toured the Middle East extensively but has only lived in Turkey.

On arriving in Bellevue she spent a while getting accustomed to American life in general. This included a trip to downtown Omaha where she realized she was going to have trouble budgeting her AFS allowance! Semra found the Bellevue school life very similar to Turkish school life in both activities and curriculum.

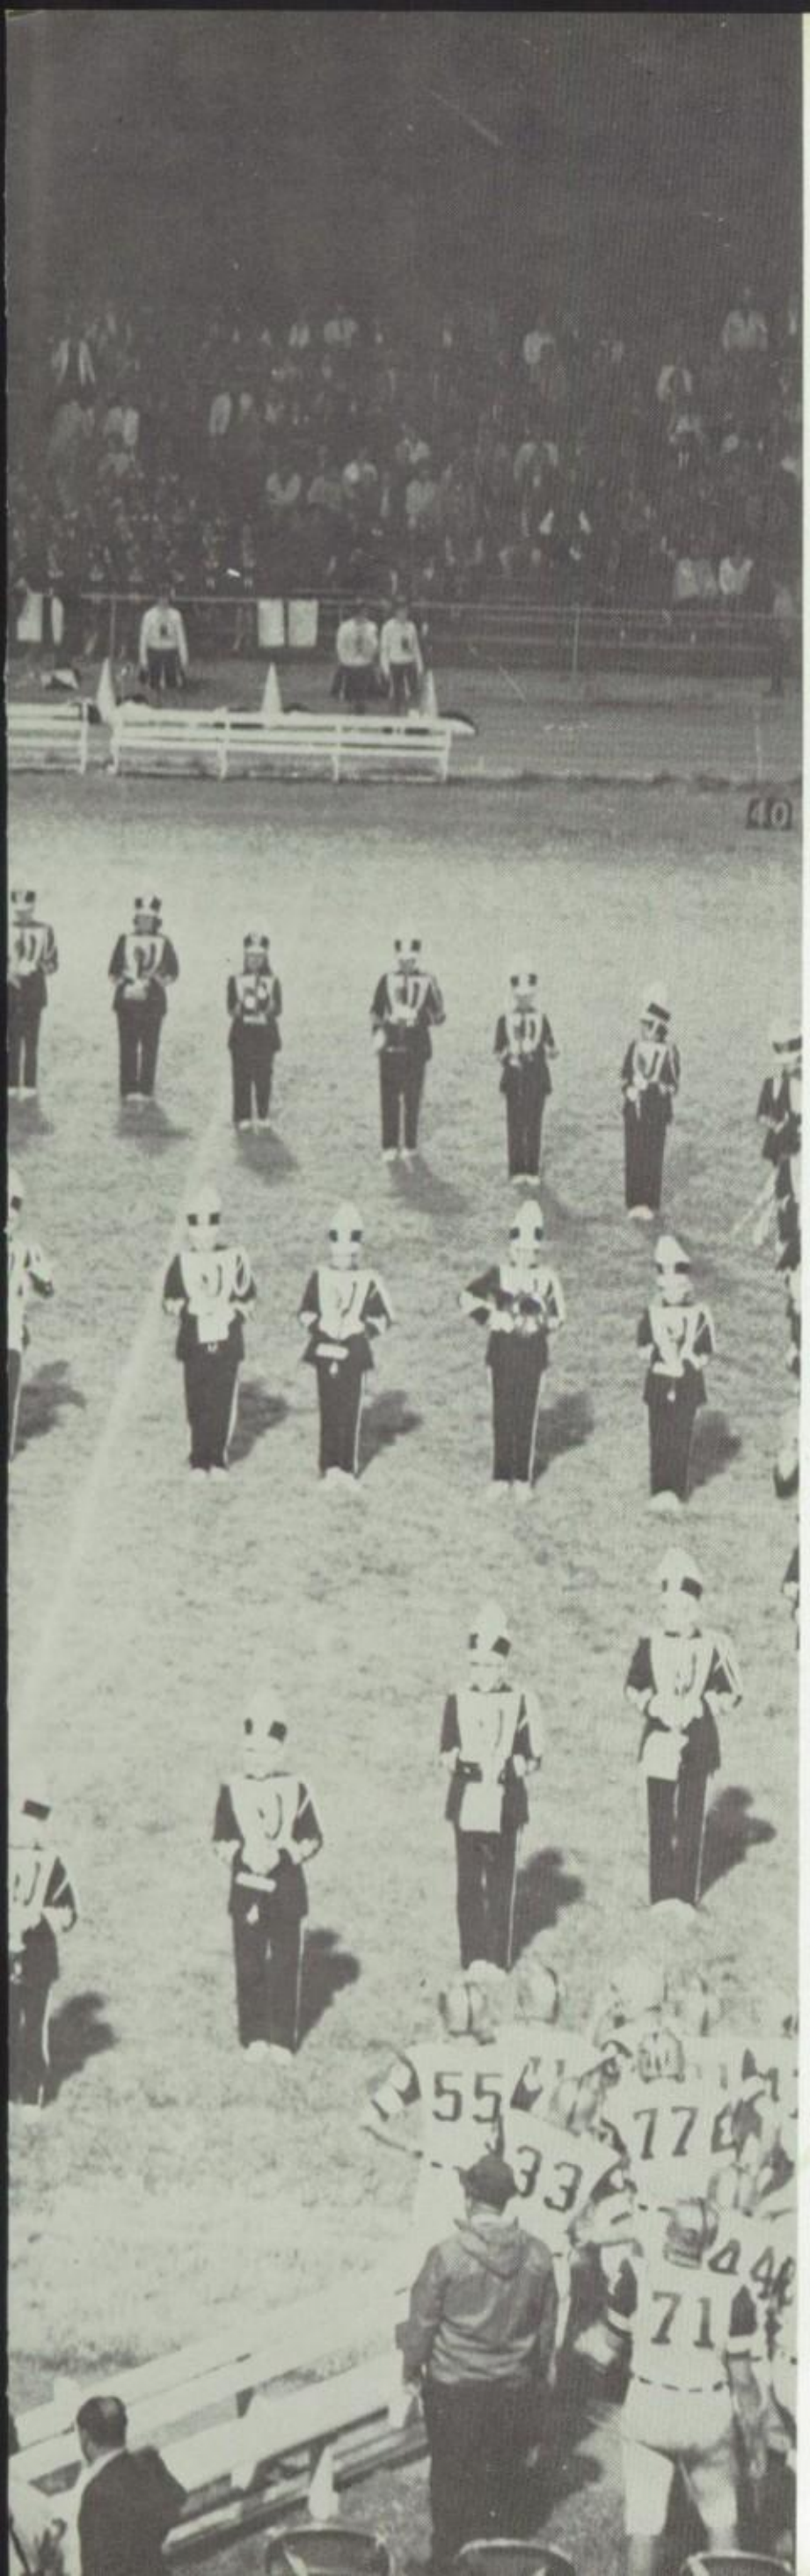
Semra went to New York before returning home. Once home she met with other foreign exchange students to discuss their experiences. We all hope she had only nice things to report about American life and her year at BHS.

Semra (at right) gets a taste of SAC.

BHS Welcomes Semra, Turkey's AFS Delegate

Semra is interviewed by Carl, Cheryl, and Phil while Mary Jane looks on.

Activities



High school does not consist of just grades and hard work. Much of it is in the additional effort put forth by the students in activities outside the classroom. Bellevue is certainly no exception to this statement; the students do work hard, but they also find time to enjoy life at BHS. They participate in activities ranging in scope from foreign language clubs, business clubs, and singing groups, to all areas of student government, and a band and drill team. These clubs and organizations play an important role at Bellevue. They serve to relieve the tensions of day-to-day school work, provide a place for friends to meet, and open new vistas for anyone who wants to explore them. Clubs function for the school as well as for the students themselves. They often provide the entertainment at a school function, represent the school in the community, and further the goal of every high school — a well-rounded student body. They help the school to avoid the mass-production of robot-like creatures, each living in a shell, apart from the world around them. They help to turn out young men and women who are accomplished in their academic endeavors, yet sophisticated enough to be constantly aware of others, and who are still able to just plain have fun. These organizations and clubs play a further part in making us ready to face the world without fear, confident in ourselves, and in our ability to meet people on even terms. Each one will have its own part in the shaping of our destinies and future lives.

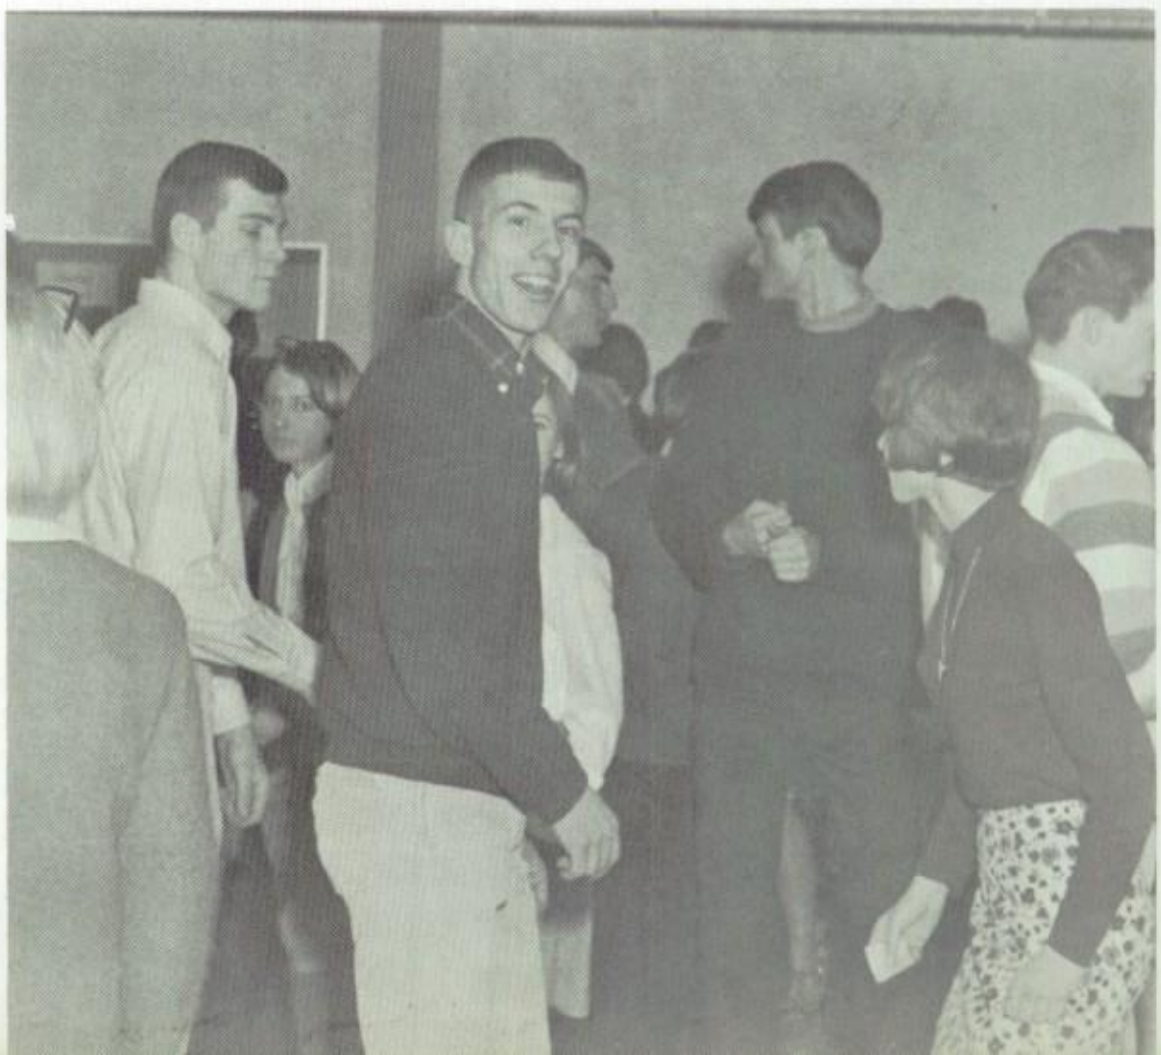
BHS Student Council Promotes Good Citizenship

The Student Council is one of the most important student organizations in Bellevue High School. Its purpose is to develop practices in good citizenship, promote harmonious relations throughout the school, improve school morale, assist in the management of the school, charter school clubs and activities, and provide a forum for student direction.

A student council representative and an alternate are elected from each homeroom at the beginning of every school year. They are required to attend the meetings and report to their respective homerooms on the council's plans and activities. Each club president is automatically a member as are the class presidents. Exchange students have honorary memberships. The student council officers are elected every spring, and the finalists are required to give speeches before an assembly of the school.

The Council's activities for this year included the Homecoming dance, parade, and halftime show; the Christmas convocation; a computer dance; selling student directories; and working on the tiling of the floor in the Hall of Fame. The Student Council is sponsored by Mr. Donald Hansen.

Student Council Officers:
Lyn Sorrelle, treasurer; Kevin Duffy, president; Lyndy Ohneck, secretary; Dave Eyster, vice-president.



"Ideal mates" are discovered at the Council-sponsored Computer Dance.

Book covers are sold by two hard-working members.

Student Councilers inspect the new victory bell.

Important student affairs are debated by representatives from all classes at a general student council meeting.

National Honor Society Encourages Scholarship

Tom Byrne, Mr. Worm, and Jeff Smith catch up on current events.

Every year approximately fifteen per cent of the senior class is elected to the National Honor Society. This is one of the highest honors a high school student can receive. The members are elected by the entire faculty.

To be eligible, a student must be in the upper third of his class, but scholastic achievment is not the key factor. He is chosen according to his leadership, character, and service.

The National Honor Society is an honorary club, not an active one. Its goal is primarily to encourage students to make full use of their knowledge. This also gives the faculty an opportunity to honor deserving students.

The organization has been in existence for twenty-six years. The Bellevue Arrowhead Chapter received its charter from the National Association of Secondary School Principals in 1940.

Mr. Louis Worm, Bellevue High librarian, has been the sponsor for ten years.

Camera Club Promotes Interest In Photography

The Camera Club was reorganized this year to promote the interest of photography on the high school level, as well as to work in conjunction with the journalism department publications. Although the club was not in existence last year, renewed enthusiasm for photography led to its rebirth.

Any Bellevue High School student with a genuine interest in photography is welcome to join the Camera Club and become acquainted with the scientific aspects of photography. This includes the printing of pictures in the darkroom. More advanced members are utilized by the Chieftain and Tom-Tom staffs as photographers.

In addition to their many other duties, the members of the Camera Club this year held a photo contest which will probably become an annual event. Guided by Mr. Dennis Loftus, the Camera Club hopes to continue expanding the interest in photography at BHS.

Mr. Loftus demonstrates photographic techniques.

Camera Club:

Activities Increase For Quill And Scroll Members

Quill and Scroll, international honor society for high school journalists, expanded its range of activities this year. Interest mounted as an increased amount of students became eligible for membership.

More opportunities to meet the requirements of the club were provided this year than in previous years. Journalism students could earn the required fifty points by writing for school publications, taking pictures, or selling annuals. Additional standards specify that a student have a "two" average in journalism, and rank in the upper third of his class.

When a student becomes eligible, he must be initiated by the active members. This usually lasts a week and consists of various crazy antics. The student must participate or he will not be accepted into the club. These initiations and all other club activities are sponsored by Mr. Dennis Loftus, journalism teacher.

After initiation, a banquet is held for all members, and the traditional gold Quill and Scroll pins are presented.

After earning 50 points, new members must be initiated.

Emoclew Club Official BHS Welcoming Committee

The Emoclew Club is the official welcoming committee for Bellevue High. Members welccme any new students and act as hosts for many special events during the year, including Open House, Parent's Night and the wrestling and basketball tournaments.

This year's club introduced the "spirit breakfast" to boost school spirit and raise money.

Other activities included bake sales to raise additional money, and hosting at other special projects for the administration.

Interest in the club has grown considerably over the past few years. The membership totaled sixty this year, which means it's one of the largest clubs in the school.

Any student may join the club, but he must attend all meetings and as many outside activities as possible in order to remain in it.

The Emoclew Club is sponsored by Mr. Hughes, biology teacher at BHS.

Safe-Teens Strive To Set Good Driving Examples

The Safe-Teens helped to promote safety at BHS by sponsoring two car rallies and a gymkana. They also contributed to safe driving by holding a Safety Week with displays and demonstrations.

The ever-increasing membership of the club has been aided by attendance of the Omaha Chapter meetings of the Safe-Teens. The qualifications for membership include having a drivers license or being in the process of obtaining one and being a BHS student. There is a maximum of one traffic violation allowed within the last six months and three in the last year. No member may have been in an accident within the last year involving injury to a pedestrian, personal injury, or property damage exceeding $100.

The members of the club strive to set good examples for drivers under the sponsorship of Mr. Peterson.

Red Cross Members Organize Easter Egg Hunt

The members of the Bellevue High School Chapter of the Red Cross introduced two new projects this year. One of the projects was to travel to a rest home to visit with the senior citizens. At the home, the Red Cross members learned how it was operated and staffed. They also spoke with the residents. The other project was a field trip to an orphanage in Omaha. Here an Easter egg hunt was organized by the Red Cross members for the children.

The Bellevue High chapter also cooperated with the other chapter of the Red Cross in the Omaha Area in sponsoring the Criss-Crosser Dance, which is held at Peony Park every year in April.

The Red Cross was sponsored this year by Mrs. Arthur.

Belle-Aires Serve as BHS Music Ambassadors

Bellevue High School was proud of the professional-sounding vocal group, the Belle-Aires, as they performed on television, at convocations and at civic and religious gatherings. These events included the annual BHS Christmas convocation, the KETV Christmas special, the KETV Easter special, and the District Music Contest.

The Belle-Aires are chosen each spring and are required to audition by singing in groups. This enables Mr. Allen Barnard, director, to perceive how the members will sound in group singing, as well as their individual talents.

Probably the most distinctive trademark of the Belle-Aires is the uniform. It consists of white blazers and blue skirts for the girls and blue blazers and black slacks for the boys. On each blazer is the Belle-Aire emblem.

Accompanist for the group this year was Jane Yule.

Refreshments are enjoyed by singers at the Base Lake.

French I Students Organize New Club at BHS

Newly organized this year, the French I Club is open to anyone having at least one year of French. A student is not required to be taking French at the time he joins the club.

The purpose of the club is to provide a better understanding of the French language and country, and to promote a better understanding between the student and teacher. Another aspect of the club is to help support the American Field Service Foreign Exchange Program.

Members of the club participated in the French Club's banquet and the Big Four Banquet. They also took part in the annual Foreign Exchange Dinner involving all the exchange students in the Omaha area. Other activities included bake sales and speakers featured at club meetings.

Christmas carolling to the school administration and local French families in French highlighted the year. A French I dinner was held at the end of the year for all members.

Mrs. Dorothy Harmon, French I and English teacher, sponsored the club.

French Students Become Acquainted With Customs

Le Cercle Francais, one of the French clubs at BHS, strives to help the advanced French student become better acquainted with French ideas and customs in conjunction with the learning of the language. It provides the student with an understanding of the French people, making him more receptive to the language.

Under the guidance of Mrs. Ruth Struble, French teacher and sponsor of the club for the past five years, Le Cercle Francais has greatly expanded its membership and range of activities.

The members enjoyed authentic French cooking and entertainment at the Peasant Dinner, Big Four Banquet, and an end-of-the-year Banquet. To become a member of the club a student must be taking French II, III, or IV, and have an active interest in the language and customs of France.

La Societe Honoraire de Francais Honors Students

La Societe Honoraire de Francais is an honorary society for outstanding French students. It functions mainly to recognize the merits of those students capable of achieving the highest results in French.

To become a member, a student must be taking French III or IV, rank in the upper third of his class, and be an outstanding French student. He must also have been a student for at least one year.

After meeting the requirements, a student must be initiated into the society. The initiation is followed later in the spring by a banquet for all club members. Members of La Societe this year also planned to purchase a French art reproduction and donate it to the school.

La Societe Honoraire de Francais is sponsored by Mrs. Struble, French teacher.

French art reproductions are reviewed by members.

Any student now taking, or who has taken Spanish may join Bellevue High's Spanish Club. Organized to further personal knowledge of the Spanish language and culture, the club also has a wide variety of activities to offer the members.

Under the direction of Miss Snavely, bake sales were held to raise money for the Chili Feed in December. All students could attend the affair which was held in the Student Lounge. Entertainment was provided by the Belle-Aires.

Another project was the participation in the Big Four Banquet, an annual affair sponsored by Bellevue High's four language clubs. Members also participated in the yearly volleyball tournament between the language clubs.

Germans Enact "Das Krippenspeil" For Students

Members create the "Faschings-ball," an annual German event.

Interest in the language increased as the members of the German Club learned about the way of life in Germany.

The club's busy year began with the building of their Homecoming Float in September. In December the Christmas play, "Das Krippenspiel" was presented in German. The annual presentation is becoming a tradition for the members of the club.

These activities were followed by the Big 4 Banquet, a Fasching party, and a May end-of-the-year party. Several speakers gave lectures throughout the year and club pins were ordered for the members.

In order to become a member of the German Club one must be taking German or have taken it at one time. There is also a charge of $1.00 for the year's dues.

The German Club is sponsored by Mr. Anthony Sokalsky.

Latin Club Members Promote Classical Languages

Organized to promote the classical languages, Bellevue High's Latin Club is open to anyone now taking Latin or who has taken in at least two years previously.

Activities for the club this year included bake sales to raise money, and plans for a coke dance and cycle rally. Also, as in previous years, the Latin Club helped sponsor the annual Big Four Banquet.

A highlight of the year was the attendance by members of the Junior Classical League Convention in April. The year was ended with a Roman Banquet.

Mr. Givens, Latin teacher, sponsored the club's activities.

Math Members Prepare For National Math Test

Preparation for the National Mathematics Test in March was a major activity for the members of Bellevue's Math Club. Another important event was the participation in the Creighton Math Field Day.

Members of the club studied various fields of math in order to prepare themselves for these two events. Besides this, they experimented with mathematical photography. These activities were sponsored by Mr. Krallman, algebra and advanced math teacher at BHS.

The Math Club is open to anyone with an interest in mathematics. Mu Alpha Theta, a division of the Math Club, is more exclusive in membership. To be considered, a student must have seven semesters of math courses and have maintained a two average in each of the courses.

The young mathematicians discuss plans for the test.

Pre-Med Club Members Take Trip To Creighton

To further develop their interest in the field of medicine, the members of the Pre-Med Club take a trip to the Creighton University Research and Medical Building each year. There they are given a tour of the premises and listen to lectures given by prominent medical men.

The trip this year was highlighted by the viewing of a cadaver. At the club meetings the members were lectured by various speakers including the Strategic Air Command's Chief Flight Surgeon, plus a dentist, and a veterinarian.

In order to become a member of the Pre-Med Club a student must have an interest in the field of medicine whether it be in X-rays, physical therapy, veterinary science, lab technology, nursing, psychiatry, or bacteriology.

Mr. Emrich, biology teacher, sponsors the Pre-Med Club.

Bi-Chemi-Phy Members Explore Fields of Science

Members experiment with Jacob's Ladder.

Any student interested in the field of science may join the Bi-Chemi-Phy Club at Bellevue High. Here they may mingle with other prospective scientists and learn more about the sciences themselves.

The purpose of the club is to promote an interest in different fields of science and to extend an opportunity to those people who wish to share their knowledge and interest with fellow students.

One high point of the year for the club members was a visit to Lincoln to see the State Historical Museum, Morrill Hall, and the new Art Museum. They also explored the field of astronomy and watched the workings of a testacoil.

Many educational trips highlighted the year for the active members. These included the Western Electric Plant, Allied Chemical Plant, and the nuclear reactor at the Veteran's Administration Hospital. Many films of the different phases of the sciences were also shown. Individual projects were investigated by the members.

These activities were sponsored by Mr. Fred Crow, physics teacher at Bellevue High School.

Library Service League Members Aid Mr. Worm

Helping students find magazines is a major task.

The purpose of Bellevue High's Library Service League is to improve the students' interest in the library and materials center. The members of the League are kept busy during their free periods aiding students and teachers in using the library. The duties of the members include checking books and magazines in and out, placing returned books on shelves, and helping teachers and students locate materials for reference work.

Many students volunteer to be in the Library Service League each year. The final members are chosen by Mr. Louis Worm, librarian and sponsor. He tries to choose those students who seem to have a genuine interest in learning about the library and its functions.

Library Service League members are presented with awards on Honors Night in recognition for their service during the year.

FBLA Meetings Highlighted With Guest Speakers

The Bellevue High School Chapter of the Future Business Leaders of America is open to all students taking a business course who are interested in furthering their knowledge of business activities. The purpose of the FBLA is to stimulate and encourage students interested in business as a possible career.

Two FBLA conventions were held in the Omaha area this year. One was a state-wide officers convention, where FBLA officers received suggestions for fund-raising and other activities. The other convention, Phi Beta Lamba, was a state-wide convention for all members in Nebraska.

Some of the meetings this year were enlivened by guest speakers. These guests generally discussed certain aspects of the sales and business administration.

The club's activities this year were sponsored by Mrs. Lucky, general business and typing teacher at BHS.

FTA Stimulates Interest in Teaching or Counseling

The Future Teachers of America is an organization for all students sincerely interested in teaching or counseling. The club stimulates its members' interests in teaching or counseling, and shows them something of the mechanics of these professions.

Each member participates in the in-service program, helping teach in a local school for at least one day in the year. The club also sponsors a college visit; this year's was to the University of Nebraska. The Talent Show was produced and directed by members of the FTA. At the end of the year the club donated to a local charity.

The FTA is an active, nationally chartered organization under the direction of Mr. Trindle, English teacher.

Debaters Develop Confidence And Sense of Logic

Debaters patiently prepare for a tournament.

Members of Bellevue's High School Debate Club are kept active throughout the year by attending debate tournaments all over the Midwest. This includes competition in Iowa, Kansas and Minnesota, as well as in close-to-home places such as Omaha and Creighton Universities. The club also sponsors a tournament at Bellevue every year.

The purpose of the club is to help members gain self confidence and develop their speaking abilities and sense of logic. An interest in world affairs is also cultivated.

To become a member, a student must belong to the National Forensics League. This is done by earning at least twenty-five points. Students earn points by participating in various tournaments.

The Debate Club members have won many trophies including those at Minnesota University and Omaha University. They have done this under the direction of Mr. Lewis, government, speech, and debate teacher at Bellevue High School.

Masquers Club Assists In Dramatic Productions

Masquers:

The back-stage activities of the Bellevue High School Masquers this year included makeup, lighting, set construction, properties, and ushering.

Their first objective was the fall play, "Take Her, She's Mine." Members participated in the production of the German Christmas play, "Das Krippenspiel" and also assisted in putting on the musical, "My Fair Lady." The crew's final project was helping with the spring play.

The Masquers Club was made up of students interested in drama and back-stage activities. It was sponsored by Mr. Ernest Carriere. The only qualification for membership was taking part in a play as a cast, crew, or committee member. Students belonging to the National Thespian Society were welcomed into the ranks of the Masquers.

Thespians Assist In Yearly Dramatic Productions

Interested in all aspects of drama, the Thespians produce plays and musicals presented to the student body throughout the year. Members construct scenery, make costumes, move properties, and of course, act in the plays.

The Thespians is an honorary society in which a student is rewarded for his work in the field of drama by gaining membership. In order to become a member, a student must attain ten points. These are earned by working in the plays. This can be in the cast, make-up, properties, lighting and sound, scenery, stage crew, or costumes.

After the points are earned, the prospective members must participate in the initiation. These are held in the fall and spring.

In addition to the dramatic productions, the Thespians also sponsored the Mardi Gras. Mr. David, drama teacher, was the club sponsor.

A varsity letter in any of ten sports including football, basketball, baseball, wrestling, swimming, gymnastics, track, cross country, golf, and tennis was required of all boys in the B-Club.

They strived to promote athletic functions at BHS in many ways. One way was keeping the basketball court swept during games. Another function of the club was to aid in crowd control at various sports events.

The B-Club sponsored several events during the year to raise money for Dollars For Scholars. It functioned under the sponsorship of Coach William James.

Bellevedettes Present Colorful Half-Time Routines

The Bellevedettes, a select drill team under the direction of Mr. Duane Stehlik and Mrs. Joan Jensen, added much sparkle to half-time basketball and football shows in addition to performing at various parades and band days.

Led by Kathy Olin, captain, and Debbie Terrill, co-captain, the Bellevedettes had a new addition this year. She was their mascot, Kim Jensen, Mrs. Jensen's daughter. The littlest Bellevedette performed at several football games and all basketball games.

Tryouts for the drill team are held each spring. The girls are required to march to directions given by the band director, perform a routine, and be interviewed by a panel of judges.

The purpose of the Bellevedettes is to provide an opportunity for talented girls at Bellevue High School to learn the basic principles of marching and drill routines.

Chiefettes Sponsor All-Sports Banquet In Spring

Officers and sponsors contemplate new activities at a weekly officers' meeting.

Each year during the first week of school, about four hundred girls organize themselves into the Chiefettes, largest club at BHS.

Their foremost duty is, of course, the support of our athletic teams. Members also act as vendors in the bleachers, selling anything from popcorn and candy to soft drinks.

Each week, the girls took turns making posters to advertise athletic events and inform students of their time and place. During football season members constructed the chieftain head for the boys to burst through before each game.

Early in the year the annual Kick-Off Dinner was held, where the girls themselves bring the food and drinks. This is the official opening event for the Chiefettes.

Every year the Pep Club sponsors the All-Sports Banquet. This is a dinner given in honor of the school's athletes, at which they receive their honors and trophies. This is paid for and organized solely by the Chiefettes, and is one of the most popular events

Cheerleaders Prove Themselves To Be Winners

Cheerleaders play active part at Homecoming rally.

Every sport at Bellevue High School, major or minor, is backed by two squads of enthusiastic yell-leaders. These are the varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders, chosen in the spring of each year by various teachers and the members of the Pep Club.

The varsity cheerleaders prepared for their year by attending the cheerleading clinic at the University of Oklahoma in Norman, Oklahoma. The trip was financed by the girls themselves and was achieved by selling concessions at the A.A.U. track meets. At the clinic, the girls were taught new cheers and techniques, and instructed in tumbling and pom pom routines.

The cheerleaders, both squads, are present at every sports event to help lead the Pep Club in yelling and promote good sportsmanship and school spirit. They also plan the school pep rallies for the student body.

Every Monday found the cheerleaders at the Pep Club meetings to help organize their plans and present new cheer and song ideas. After school, on other days, the girls would practice their cheers and routines.

To be a cheerleader, a girl must be chosen in the spring during tryouts, then maintain at least a 3.5 average in school work.

Sports

Since the beginning of man's existence, he has been blessed with the spirit of competitiveness. In their origin, sports were simply used as individual means of entertainment and the passing of time. New games were devised as each person's need for enjoyment and competitive nourishment grew. Then a fellow by the name of Dr. James E. Naismith invented a game played with a ball and a peach basket, and a whole new era sprang forth. No longer were the simple games of the pioneer being used purely as entertainment. It was now more than that; it was the conception to compete and win not just for one's self, but for others, too, who played together to compose a competitive unit and what that body represented. And soon, the whole country caught fire as new sports such as football, gymnastics, wrestling, swimming, baseball, and track were promoted and improved upon. Bellevue, also joining in with the thoughts of the rest of the nation, arrived to some definite conclusions on this subject. The coaches and athletes of Nebraska's oldest community still promote and practice competition in sports, and labor diligently to promote its basic ideals; the drive to compete, the conduct of sportsmanship, and above all, the will to win.

Climaxing their 1966 football season the Chieftains, under the leadership of Coach Bill James and Co-captains Jim Patterson and Mike Craney, achieved a well deserved 5-4 win-loss record as they buried their final opponent, Tee Jay, 45-0.

This season started out strong with a win over Omaha Central 21-0, but fell short as Creighton Prep, a top ranked favorite, stopped all hopes for a perfect season with a 35-12 shutdown.

Prep, relying on a passing game, proved too much for the purple and white especially under the aerial attack of junior all-state quarterback, Brian Linstrom.

After Prep, the Chiefs had their share of tough decisions and heartbreakers as they tangled with the Northeast Rockets and bowed down with a 2-0 homecoming defeat before a capacity crowd.

efforts proved fruitless as Tech prevailed 21-13.

Although defeated with their third straight loss in a row, the team spirit of the gridders was not dampened as they displayed a confidence which the team and their coach kept as they promptly met and defeated their next opponent, Lincoln Southeast, at Seacrest Field. The Chiefs pulled away from the capital city with a 20-0 shutout win under their victory belts.

Climaxing their brilliant showing was a last minute pass from junior quarterback Denny Peters, substituting for starter Mike McGuire, to senior end Kirk Koehler for a seven point trip to the scoreboard.

Now, a stirred up Bellevue Team met the North High Vikings on its home field and handed them a 14-0 loss on a wind-blown and drizzle soaked evening of joy.

Perhaps the biggest heartbreaker of the year came as the Chieftains secumed to the challenge of top rated Westside as they fell by a shaky margin of 7-6.

The Chiefs scored late in the game with Westside ahead 7-0, only to have the conversion kick swept wide of the goal posts by winds gusting from twenty to thirty miles per hour.

Our spirited men, still undaunted, sprung back from the mishap to breeze by Bishop Ryan 28-7.

The concluding battle, with the Yellow Jackets of Tee Jay, proved the ability and determination of the players as they prevailed 45-0.

Honors

Though showing a seemingly unimpressive record to that of other teams, the Chieftains were bestowed with several top honors given to the players and their coach.

Along with position of coach of the week, Coach James had one all-state standout in the form of senior end and co-captain Jim Patterson. Jim also received all-metro honors.

Along with Jim, all-metro positions were awarded to senior tackle and Co-captain Mike Craney, along with senior fullback workhorse, Mike Whitaker. Receiving honorable mention as a great offensive end was senior star and commendable pass receiver, Kirk Koehler.

Other senior standouts who attributed greatly to the team's efforts were: Doug Cundall, defensive and offensive jack-of-all-trades; John Hopkins, defensive tackle; Bill Brown, offensive and defensive guard; and last but not least, offensive halfbacks Art Haney and Bill Newby.

These players along with the returning men next year kept up a tradition at Bellevue in football: the undying will to win, even if you are underrated. They also reflect the will of the Bellevue High athlete.

Junior Chieftains Finish Successful 6-1 Schedule

The 1966 Junior Varsity repeated last year's outstanding record as they rolled to 6 wins and 1, loss.

All games on the road were victories for the Chiefs with their only loss against Creighton Prep in a thriller ending on the short end of a 7-6 score.

The Junior Chiefs started out strong with a ripping defense holding tough Tech and Ryan teams to scoreless games while a driving offense rolled to an average of better than 25 points per game.

It's an old saying that three is a charm, but for two previous years this old adage can be refuted, for it was the third game of all three seasons which spoiled the otherwise perfect records. Last year, Lincoln High downed the Junior Chiefs 19 to 17. This season it was Creighton Prep in the closer 7-6 deficit.

The next game saw the J. V.'s barely squeak by North with another one point marginal difference, resulting in a final 26-25 victory. Sophomore Bob English, scoring two touchdowns, led the rushing with 166 total yardage and a 9.2 average per carry.

Bellevue next wiped out the T. J. Team 41-0 and finished off the season by smashing South 27-19 to earn a first place in the J. V. Metro rating.

Reserve Squad Gains Experience, Ending 6-1-1

Gaining valuable experience and sportsmanship, the Bellevue 1966 reserve football team, under the direction of Mr. Quinton Hughes, established a victorious six win, one loss, and one tie record.

Tee Jay handed the sophomores a 31-20 defeat in their initial contest, but the Chiefs bounced back to defeat the Warriors of Westside.

The season's third contest featured a slim marginal decision over Omaha North while the next three victories were unanimous ones over Prep, Tech, and Bishop Ryan.

A 25-12 win over Omaha South capped off their winning streak while an 18-18 tie with Lincoln Southeast concluded the season for Bellevue's reserves.

Members of the squad gained valuable experience and traits which will be of considerable help to them for future varsity careers.

Chieftain Harriers Battle Tough Metro Contests

Upon completion of Bellevue High's third year in the Metropolitan Conference, the Chieftain harriers wound up their 1966 season on the short end of a 0-8 record.

Bellevue's first team effort resulted in a 17-23 loss to Council Bluffs' Thomas Jefferson High; later, the Chiefs clashed with Omaha Westside High and received their second loss with a decisive score of 10-30.

Next came contests with Omaha's Creighton Prep and Bryan High schools, upon which Prep's speedsters handed the Chiefs a loss of 10-26, followed by a closer defeat by the Bears of Bryan.

Starting out the month of October, the trackmen met with Omaha Tech High. The contest turned out to be one of the heartbreakers of the rigid schedule as the Trojans handed them a narrow 17-19 squeaker.

The following week showed the Chiefs encounter the Bishop Ryan Knights as the team suffered a setback as Ryan triumphed with a 10-27 victory.

The final meet of the program came as the Cross-Countrymen dropped another close one to Omaha South 17-19.

In tournament competition, Bellevue's harriers were hard-pressed to match the outstanding speed of their opponents.

The first of October saw the Peru Invitational tournament held at Peru State Teacher's College. Here, the Chiefs nailed down a seventh place.

Outstanding on Bellevue's 1966 cross-country team were senior Jim Nelson, who established a new school record in addition to his other performances; and junior Blake Richardson, who was honored as one of the top ten underclassmen in Metro cross-country competition.

Hopes for a better 1967 season are brightened by the strong number of returning lettermen next year and the leadership of coach Dick Tannahill.

Gymnasts Tie For Second In American Division

In its second year at Bellevue High, the Chieftain gymnastics team successfully completed a 7-5 season.

Under the direction of Coach Wendell Filkins, the varsity tumblers ended the season in a tie for second place in the American division of the Metropolitan conference with a league record of 4-2.

The Chieftain victories came in dual meets with Tee Jay, 69-43; Omaha Tech, 81 1/2-25 1/2; Benson, 70-42; Omaha Westside, 70 1/2-41 1/2; Boys Town, 72 1/2-39 1/2; Creighton Prep, 68-42; and Bishop Ryan, 62-50.

Bellevue's only losses occured in a dual with Omaha Central by a score of 69-43 and a meet with Omaha North, 57-55. The Chiefs ended their regular schedule by placing third in a triangular meet with Lincoln Northeast, eventual state champs, and Omaha Central.

In district competition, the Chiefs qualified three boys for the state tourney while nailing down second place.

At the state meet, Bellevue had one finalist, co-captain Bill Newby, who scored the team's total of 4.5 in still rings action.

The Chiefs wound up thirteenth out of twenty schools in the running for the title.

Hopes for next year are strong due to nine returning lettermen which will help to strengthen the team.

Underrated Cagers End Successful 11-7 Season

Bellevue was beaten severely by only one team throughout season and post-season play. Omaha Tech, the runner-up team in the state ratings, failed the Chieftains 69-53 at Tech early in the season.

Heartbreaking losses included a come from behind surge by Boys Town there, a one-point margin win by Rummel which scored at the time of the buzzer, and their final-game of the regular season which was lost 64-62 to the top team in the state, Central.

Bellevue experienced many ups and downs which excited the fans and the coach, as they were undefeated on their home court, beating such teams as Prep, 5th in the state; South, 6th in the state; and Northeast, 2nd in the state.

Benson, Westside, Burke, Abe Lynx, and Omaha North fell to Bellevue by the larger margins.

The Chieftains met Lincoln High in the first game of district; Hastings met Nebraska City in the preliminaries.

Hastings outran the Chiefs, who overthrew Lincoln High, 64-60. Bellevue was unable to score effectively as they experienced one of their colder nights of the season.

Jay Vee hopefuls for varsity roles next year include the teams leading scorer, Eddie Whitehouse, Bob Baldwin, Dan Diltz, Chris Held, and Jim Burum.

With only one returning letterman from his 1965 squad, Mr. Jack Wood was able to come up with a winning combination in Fred Carpenter, Tom Garvey, Mike McGuire, Rusty Delcambre, Bill Gorham, and Kirk Koehler.

The Chiefs finished the season with an 11-7 record, the biggest spoiler team in the state of Nebraska.

Junior Cagers Look To Future Varsity Careers

The 1966-67 Junior Varsity Basketball squad, under the direction of Coach Neal Prince, seemed to fall short as it ended on the bitter end of a 5-10 seasonal showing.

Winning only to Lincoln Pius X, 66-42, Omaha Westside, 65-49, Council Bluffs' Abraham Lincoln, 65-55, and Lincoln Northeast, 69-55, and Tee Jay, 43-36, the junior cagers hustled to earn valuable experience to be used on next year's roundball squads.

Sparking the team with his ball handling, play making, and shooting, was junior Eddie Whitehouse, a hustling guard. He, along with his teammates, will be a helping asset to future teams.

The purpose of a Junior Varsity squad is to play and gain experience for future varsity careers; and Coach Prince backed this idea all the way as he rotated the starters and the bench, being sure that every boy received his chance to show what he could do.

The members of the J.V. squad who will go on playing will find their 66-67 season a rewarding experience and a great aid in their own self improvement.

Bellevue High's third year of Reserve basketball saw the closing of a 0-9 schedule of the young cagers.

The Reserve team, under the direction of Coach Quinton Hughes, worked hard to improve their knowledge and skills in the fundamentals and basics of basketball over the cage season.

Undaunted by their early losses, the young Chieftains kept springing back to life as defeat was handed to them.

Each boy on the team learned the tragedies of the game and the proper background to play which will be of valuable help for future cage years.

It is hoped that the experience gained in this year's contest willl enable the boys to come back next season, and spark the Junior Varsity squad to a successful schedule of victories.

Chief Matmen Finish Tough Metro Schedule 9-4

Tri-captains Jim Nelson, Mike Whitaker, and Tom Furby headed a list of nine returning lettermen and a surprising group of sophomores who helped Bellevue's matmen to a 9-4 season record and second place in the district meet.

Coached by Mr. Richard Tannahill, the Chieftains engineered fourth-place finishes in the Metropolitan Conference and North High Tournaments while placing third in the South High Invitational.

The district meet, hosted by Bellevue, highlighted the season as the Chiefs placed second and had five champions. Jim Nelson, Tom Furby, Mike Whitaker, Mike Craney and Phil Painter took first place medals.

Sophomore heavyweight Phil Painter grabbed the most individual honors, as he captured first place in the South High, Tee Jay, and Nebraska City invitationals while finishing fourth in both the conference and state class A wrestling meets.

Jimmy Nelson, undefeated in dual matches at 127-pounds, was the conference champion and second in the North High Invitational. Headed for a probable state championship, he separated his shoulder in the state semi-finals.

145-pound senior grappler Tom Furby won a second place in both the conference meet and the North High Invitational.

Mike Craney helped the team cause when he went over his weight to upset two of the state's top-rated 180-pounders. Steve Sellin accomplished the same feat at 103-pounds.

Phil Painter's last match falls proved to be the winning margins against both Tee Jay and Creighton Prep.

Only state champion South High was able to defeat Bellevue badly. The other three dual losses were decided by the margin of one match to Westside, Tech, and Southeast.

A good team next year, too? Could be —without any transfers there will be twelve returning lettermen and hopes for a state berth.

Junior Matmen Gain Experience; Ending 8-5-1

Completing their 1966-67 wrestling season, the Junior Chieftains finished with a winning 8-5-1 record.

Tying only with Omaha Tech High, the J.V. squad, pushing to better themselves, started out the season with a setback as they lost the opener to Boys Town by a 33-23 margin.

A string of three successive victories followed the first win of the season against Omaha Central, resulting in a 36-20 score. These next three contests helped the spirit of the team as the junior grapplers recorded decisions over Omaha North, Omaha Benson, and Omaha Burke, resulting in scores of 47-10, 31-21, and 35-13 respectively.

After suffering a loss to state champion South's J.V. squad, 11-43; Westside's junior matmen, 19-30; and Tee Jay's wrestlers, 6-34, Bellevue sprang back to take the next four attempts in a row as the determined boys downed Omaha Bishop Ryan, 30-16; Omaha Creighton Prep, 32-14; the Farragut varsity squad, 32-16, and wiped out Omaha Rummel by a resounding 58-0 score.

The Chiefs finished the regularly scheduled season with a 34-18 loss to Lincoln Southeast.

Swimmers Strive To Improve Clocked Results

Completing their third year of organized Metropolitan Conference competition, the Bellevue finmen, under the supervision of Coach Mike Jackson, finished on the short side of a 6-9 record.

The first four dual meets of the year saw the Chieftains clipped by Omaha North, 29-66; rise above Omaha Bishop Ryan, 65-29; and then fall for two consecutive losses to Omaha's Westside and Central High Schools, 18-72 and 35-55, respectively.

Next came a victory over Omaha South, 57-37; and two more losses to Omaha Prep, 30-65; and Omaha Tech, 29-65.

A second attack on South proved successful as our boys recorded an approved 57-37 margin.

Three losses in a row, to Omaha Burke, Tee Jay, and Abraham Lincoln, 29-65, 37-57, and 37-57 respectively, helped encourage the Chiefs to take three out of the next four contests. The victories being over Boystown, 53-42; Rummel, 95-20, and Bryan, 95-40. The last loss received from Burke, by a 24-70 outcome.

In Metro standings, the swimmers ended in seventh place and were tied for ninth and tenth in state competition.

Dixie Lions Capture Two '67 Intramural Titles

Intramural competition this year was highlighted by tag football in the fall, volleyball in the winter, as well as basketball, and softball in the spring.

In tag football, the Dixie Lions took both the National League and the overall championships as they scored a 9-0 record. The Lions also managed to break three school records; in team scoring, with an offense of 38.1 points per game; most points scored in a single game, 76 points; and individual high scorer in a single game, honors went to Rusty Delcambre with 27 points.

In girls' flag football, the Hum-Babies overcame and defeated all comers with a victorious margin of 7-2 followed close by the Offsiders and the Group.

In girls' volleyball, the undisputed champs were the All-Stars led by Nancy Jo Terrill, Kathy Lawler, and Sid Furby. This group of girls came back from football to be undefeated in volleyball action.

Boys' volleyball again saw the Dixie Lions the victors, claiming two intramural titles.

In boys' basketball, the Zabas & Co. came back from losses in the two earlier sports to beat all comers including the rival Dixie Lions.

Standouts this year were Steve Ellerbush, Sid Taylor, and Rusty Delcambre of the Dixie Lions; Jim Patterson, Bruce Peters, and Andy Riddle of the Zabas & Co; Denise Sigler and Kathy Foreman of the Hum-Babies; and Jill Garlock and Kathy Lawler of the All-Stars.

Through the years, the small settlement of Bellevue has become a growing community of people and business. It is still growing and will continue growing as long as it produces young people, eager and ambitious to work for the future. Progress is what makes Bellevue great. It can be seen in the number of new businesses which have found Bellevue a desirable place to "put down roots." These new businesses and older established businesses provide work and experience for the young and better living for all. Much is owed to the businessmen of Bellevue, who have strived to make this once small settlement a booming town with great plans for the future. Progress is their profession.

Mrs. Ralph,
They couldn't have dedicated this annual to a finer person. The things you have done for Bellevue are absolutely immeasurable. I especially want to thank you for the help you gave me in mailing transcripts, recommendations etc. So to fine counselor, the student's friend, I say thanks for everything. Best of luck always, and may God bless you,

Mrs. Ralph,

I feel very fortunate to have had someone like you for counseling these last 2 years. Someone with whom it has been so easy to communicate, probably because I admire you so much. I have seen in you so many qualities which I should like some-day to possess as a woman.

I wonder, tho', who next year's Senior will have to run to with their problems especially the ones who are in tears. I'm afraid Mrs. Elsie will never be able to quite replace you.

Thank you for listening to me so many times.

Love,
Lyn Sorelle

Mrs. Ralph -
To one of the best friends our class has ever had. Thank you so much for all your help.

Good Luck

Mrs. Ralph,
You have been a marvelous help to me since I came to this school. I'm sorry you're leaving, but I hope you enjoy you're new home.

Janice Callen

Mrs Ralph -
Being a humble junior, I decided to write in your book. I hope to see you next year. Have fun during the SUMMER!

Greg Lynch

Mrs. Ralph,
Its been a fun
year, but getting to come down + see you to relieve the boredom was best of luck to with the underclassmen -
Mike Friend

Mrs. Ralph,
Thanks for all the help
You gave me during Senior Courses. Sorry
coming me to take Math

Mrs. Ralph,
I thank you very much for three wonderful years. It's been a great pleasure knowing you and having you work with me. All I can say is that I'm very grateful and I wish you always the best.

Best wishes always,

Bill Newby '67

Mrs. Ralph
It's been great knowing you the past couple of years. Thanks for all the help you've given me. We're really going to miss you
next year. Good luck
